Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health

Notification of Intent to Complete Certificate Program in Vaccine Science and Policy

The certificate program is open only to students currently enrolled in an academic degree program at the Bloomberg School. Students are required to complete and submit this form prior to registering for their third course in the certificate curriculum. Students who do not submit the completed form will not be granted the certificate diploma. All courses taken towards the certificate program must be taken for academic credit and a letter grade (if a letter grade is offered).

It is the responsibility of the student to comply with the instructions on the certificate website about completion of a certificate program.
