

ORGANIZATIONAL LEADERSHIP, MASTER OF SCIENCE

MS in Organizational Leadership

MSOL students develop core competencies in methodologies and frameworks; theories relevant to critical thinking and analytic techniques; application of analytic techniques and theories to problem sets; and visualization techniques for producing reports, briefs, and infographics.

Students demonstrate these core competencies by achieving six learning outcomes: (1) applying research and analytical skills to solve complex problems; (2) leading at the intersection of strategy, execution, and creativity; (3) developing and applying ethical principles; (4) evaluating professional frameworks; (5) designing, developing, and communicating strategic plans; and (6) comparing and contrasting industry standards and techniques.

Admissions Criteria for all Advanced Academic Programs (<http://e-catalog.jhu.edu/arts-sciences/advanced-academic-programs/enrollment-services/admission/>)

Program Requirements

Code	Title	Credits
Core Courses (9)
AS.485.605	Ethics, Integrity and the Responsibility of Leaders
AS.485.615	Leading and Managing Change
AS.485.635	Leadership and Organizational Behavior
	Team Building: Individual and Group Dynamics
	Project Management: Leading Projects to Successful Outcomes
	Organizational Development and Innovation
	Strategic Planning for Leaders
	Crisis Mitigation
	Capstone: Current Issues in Leadership
Electives (select one of the following)
AS.485.620	Managerial Economics
	Leadership: A Developmental Process
	Portfolio Management
	Institutional Fundraising: Raising Maximum Dollars from Government Agencies, Corporations & Foundations	