Program Requirements

To receive a Ph.D. in Classics at Johns Hopkins University, students must successfully complete a range of seminar work and examinations and then write a substantial dissertation. This program in Classics is designed to be completed in five years, of which the first three are dedicated to seminar work and examinations, and the last two to the dissertation. A detailed outline of the Ph.D. program, including a prospectus of all seminars and exams, can be found on the Classics Department website (https://classics.jhu.edu/) (http://classics.jhu.edu).
