

POLITICAL SCIENCE, BACHELOR OF ARTS

Political Science Major Requirements

(See also Requirements for a Bachelor's Degree (<https://e-catalogue.jhu.edu/ksas-wse/undergraduate-policies/academic-policies/requirements-bachelors-degree/>)).

All courses applied towards the major must be taken for a letter grade and students must receive a grade of C or higher. At least six of the 12 political science courses must be taken at JHU. Only one letter-graded independent study of 3 credits may apply towards the major (unless honors thesis). The Department of Political Science does not award credit for the Advanced Placement Exam in government.

Writing and Communication in the Major

Students must complete at least 6 credits of Writing and Communication foundational ability coursework in one major. For this major, students would be able to fulfill this requirement by selecting 6 credits of political science elective courses in the major that are designated as Writing and Communications courses.

Code	Title	Credits
Subfield Courses <sup>1</sup>
One 100- level 3-credit course in American Politics (POLI-AP)		3
One 100- level 3-credit course in Comparative Politics (POLI-CP)		3
One 100- level 3-credit course in International Relations (POLI-IR)		3
One 100- level 3-credit course in Political Theory (POLI-PT)		3
Political Science Elective Courses
Three (9 credits) political science courses at any level (at least 3 credits each)		9
At least five courses and at least 15 credits of Political Science courses at the 300 or 400 level. <sup>2</sup>		15
At least four courses beyond the introductory classes ("100" level) must be denoted with a "190" designation (AS.190.2xx-4xx), though occasionally there are exceptions. Check with the DUS or Political Science coordinator for exceptions.
Cognate Courses <sup>3</sup>
At any level for a total of 12 credits selected from the following areas: 12 history, history of art, history of science & technology, philosophy, anthropology, geography, economics, sociology, psychology, and courses offered by the SNF Agora Institute (as defined by the department name).
Total Credits		48

<sup>1</sup> 100 level courses beginning with 191 do not count toward introductory political science subfield courses. AS.192.150 States, Regimes & Contentious Politics can be counted towards the POLI-CP requirement.

<sup>2</sup> Students are allowed to use one, 3-credit, letter-graded independent study towards this requirement. Current course numbers include: AS.190.535-541 and 598.

<sup>3</sup> Courses must be at least 3 credits each.

Sample Program of Study

First Year
First Semester	Credits	Second Semester	Credits
100 Level American Politics Course	3	100 Level Comparative Politics Course	3
Cognate #1	3	Cognate #2	3
		6	6
Second Year
First Semester	Credits	Second Semester	Credits
100 Level International Relations Course	3	100 Level Political Theory Course	3
Cognate #3	3	Cognate #4	3
		6	6
Third Year
First Semester	Credits	Second Semester	Credits
Political Science Course at any level #1	3	Political Science Course at any level #2	3
Upper Level Political Science Course #1	3	Upper Level Political Science Course #2	3
		6	6
Fourth Year
First Semester	Credits	Second Semester	Credits
Political Science Course at any level #3	3	Upper Level Political Science Course #4	3
Upper Level Political Science Course #3	3	Upper Level Political Science Course #5	3
Writing Intensive Political Science Course (if needed, could overlap with other required course)
		6	6

Total Credits 48

World Politics and Global Governance Double Major

The World Politics and Global Governance (WPGG) (<http://politicalscience.jhu.edu/undergraduate/world-politics-and-global-governance-double-major/>) program offers an intellectually rigorous path for students who want to understand world politics from a broad interdisciplinary perspective. Completing this course of study satisfies the requirements for a double major in political science and international studies. Students take courses from one of five different thematic foci: Global governance and law; Political economy; International security; Borders and identities; Environmental politics. The WPGG program enables students to develop their analytical skills and their critical judgment as citizens of the world. The program provides excellent preparation for professional careers as well as for graduate studies in political science, public affairs, law, business, and beyond.

Honors Thesis Program

Seniors may choose to write a senior research thesis. After the student has obtained approval from a faculty sponsor to supervise the project, the student will enroll in a three-credit thesis colloquium course during the fall semester of their senior year. If, at the end of the fall semester adequate progress has been made and the project warrants further work, the student must enroll in a three-credit Independent Study supervised by the faculty sponsor.

Students who complete a distinguished senior thesis and have a final major GPA (including final semester grades) of 3.7 will be awarded departmental honors. All students may choose to write a thesis, regardless of GPA, provided they have a detailed proposal approved by a faculty member at the beginning of the fall semester of their senior year.

All thesis-related courses apply to the total of 12 political science courses required for graduation in the major.