CAREY BUSINESS SCHOOL

Our Mission
The Johns Hopkins Carey Business School supports business knowledge development and education through our own initiatives, innovations, and collaborative programs across the Johns Hopkins University. We create and share knowledge that shapes business practices while educating business leaders who will grow economies and societies, and are exemplary citizens.

Introduction
The Johns Hopkins University
Established in 1876, the Johns Hopkins University was the first American university dedicated to advanced study and scientific research. Today, Johns Hopkins continues as a leader in teaching, research, and community service and is the single largest university recipient of research and development funds from the federal government. There are 10 divisions within the university.

The Johns Hopkins Carey Business School
The Johns Hopkins Carey Business School brings to the field of business education the intellectual rigor and commitment to excellence that are the hallmarks of the Johns Hopkins University. True to the traditions of the university of which it is a part, the school’s approach is original and transformative. It offers a uniquely humanistic and multidisciplinary model of business education and research, tapping the rich resources of faculty and programs from the other great divisions of the university—the Schools of Medicine, Public Health, Nursing, Engineering, Advanced International Studies, Arts and Sciences, and Education.

Nimble, engaging, forward-thinking, and responsive, Carey Business School graduates are not just business leaders but global citizens who understand and respect the interconnectedness of business and society and the potential of innovative thinking and sustainable strategies to change lives, communities—the world—for the better.

Carey Business School students gain a sound education in business functions and fundamentals, and a deep understanding in one or more key sectors critical to economic growth and job creation: health care management, financial businesses, real estate and infrastructure, and risk management.

Through programs that combine extensive theory with a wealth of work-world experience, Carey students learn from nationally recognized researchers and leaders in their fields. Faculty are a dynamic blend of academic experts and practitioners drawn from leading corporate, government, and nonprofit institutions, such as Bank of America, Deloitte & Touche LLP, Fannie Mae, NASDAQ, Northrop Grumman, the U.S. Treasury, Wells Fargo, and the World Wildlife Fund. Carey graduates represent a diverse mix of prominent national and international employers, including Stanley Black & Decker, the U.S. State Department, Ernst & Young, IBM, and NASA.

By linking this focused business education to urgent social issues—e.g., health, security, infrastructure, education, environmental sustainability, population, and poverty—the Johns Hopkins Carey Business School endeavors to improve lives on a global scale, by producing leaders to tackle not only today’s most difficult challenges, but those of tomorrow as well.
