Brass majors only

PY.410.459. Respiratory Function - Brass. 1 Credit.
Basic techniques of breathing and breath control for brass instruments tailored to the student's instrument with a goal of enhancing one's use of air and efficiency to improve performances. Consists of five private one-hour lessons during the semester. Enrollment is limited to three students per semester.
Brass or Woodwind majors only

PY.410.547. Brass Ensemble (UG). 1 Credit.
Performance of large brass ensemble repertoire and British-style brass band repertoire; rehearsal of important orchestral literature for brass.

PY.410.548. Brass Ensemble (UG). 1 Credit.
Performance of large brass ensemble repertoire and British-style brass band repertoire; rehearsal of important orchestral literature for brass

PY.410.847. Brass Ensemble (UG). 1 Credit.
Performance of large brass ensemble repertoire and British-style brass band repertoire; rehearsal of important orchestral literature for brass.

PY.410.848. Brass Ensemble (GR). 1 Credit.
Performance of large brass ensemble repertoire and British-style brass band repertoire; rehearsal of important orchestral literature for brass.

PY.310.411. Junior Bach Program. 0.5 - 3 Credits.
Weekly, one-on-one lessons in composition for middle-school students from the St. Ignatius Loyola Academy and Baltimore Leadership School for Young Women. The course culminates in a concert of new student works at the end of each semester.
Open to Composition Majors and those with instructor permission. Non-Composition majors should email the instructor's permission to peabodyregistrar@jhu.edu to be registered.

PY.310.513. Composers of the AACM. 1 Credit.

PY.310.515. Music Now. 2 Credits.
An elective designed to familiarize students with composers, ensembles, and ideas associated with early 21st century music.

PY.310.516. Music Now. 2 Credits.
An elective designed to familiarize students with composers, ensembles, and ideas associated with early 21st century music.

PY.310.545. Composition Seminar (UG). 1 Credit.
Informal sessions in which works of students and faculty are discussed and important contemporary works, trends and techniques are analyzed. Required for composition majors. Open to others with permission of chair of department.
Composition majors only. Non-majors interested in auditing the course should email department chair approval to peabodyregistrar@jhu.edu.

PY.310.546. Composition Seminar (UG). 1 Credit.
Informal sessions in which works of students and faculty are discussed and important contemporary works, trends and techniques are analyzed. Required for composition majors. Open to others with permission of chair of department.
Composition majors only. Non-majors interested in auditing the course should email department chair approval to peabodyregistrar@jhu.edu.

PY.310.691. Composition Portfolio MM. 2 Credits.
The completion of works of major proportions, for full orchestra and chamber ensemble, as required in the Master of Music degree program.
Graded on a S/U basis. Composition majors only.

PY.310.793. Compositions/Commentary. 6 Credits.
The completion of works of major proportions, for full orchestra and chamber ensemble, accompanied by a substantial written commentary, as required in the Doctor of Musical Arts degree program.
Composition majors only.

PY.350.409. Hip Hop Music Production 1. 2 Credits.
A history and workshop course designed to illuminate the history of Hip Hop music.

PY.350.410. Hip Hop Music Production 2. 2 Credits.
Conceived as a follow-up class to "Hip Hop Music Production: History and Practice 1", this course is designed to further explore production styles and techniques of prominent as well as lesser known producers, and to provide students with opportunities to build on production skills learned in "Hip Hop Music Production: History and Practice 1". Students will have the opportunity to produce hip hop in a number of different styles, as well as to learn mixing and mastering techniques used to bring a recording project to completion.
Completion of Hip Hop Music Production 1 needed, PY.350.409[C].

PY.350.463. Introduction to Computer Music. 3 Credits.
A study of the techniques, repertoire, and aesthetics of computer music. Composition and research projects are completed using the resources of the Computer Music Studios. Participation in at least one public program.

PY.350.464. Introduction to Computer Music 2. 3 Credits.
A study of the techniques, repertoire, and aesthetics of computer music. Composition and research projects are completed using the resources of the Computer Music Studios. Participation in at least one public program.
Completion of Introduction to Computer Music 1 needed, PY.350.463[C].
PY.350.465. Introduction to Web Design. 3 Credits.
Designed for music students with limited computer experience, this course will provide the skill and awareness to use the computer, the World Wide Web and Internet technologies to support your musical career from the classroom to the concert stage. (May be used for general and music electives.)

PY.350.466. Introduction to Programming. 3 Credits.
This course is designed for musicians and digital artists who wish to learn Multimedia Programming. We will use the Python programming language to examine techniques and algorithms to manipulate sounds, images, movies, text and web pages. Also, we will learn to acquire and use related open-source programs and libraries to simplify our work. No previous programming experience is required.

The seminar focuses on the work of student and faculty composers, with class discussion of some current developments in the field of computer music. Required for computer music majors. Open to others with permission of the faculty. Computer Music majors only. Non-majors interested in auditing the course should email department chair approval to peabodyregistrar@jhu.edu.

PY.350.691. Master's Thesis. 2 Credits.
A scholarly work describing the author's research activities as required for the Research track of the MM program in Computer Music. Computer Music majors only; completion of or co-enrollment in Research Practicum required. PY.350.842(C).

PY.350.693. Portfolio. 2 Credits.
The completion and submission of works of major proportions that utilize computer technology as required by the Master of Music degree program in Computer Music. The compositions must be written during your tenure at Peabody and be approved by your major teacher and departmental faculty. Graded on a S/U basis. Computer Music - Composition Track majors only.

PY.350.835. Studio Techniques. 3 Credits.
A course that covers advanced computer music studio techniques, including advanced use of MIDI, analog and digital synthesizer programming, sample editing and processing, Time Code and synchronization, and recording and production techniques. Prerequisite: Introduction to Computer Music or equivalent. Computer Music majors only; completion of Introduction to Computer Music 2 required, PY.350.464(C).

PY.350.837. Digital Music Programming 1. 3 Credits.
This course teaches computer programming theory and skills pertaining to computer music composition, performance, and research. The primary focus of the course is the Max/MSP/Jitter suite of programming tools. Prerequisites: Introduction to Computer Music; Studio Techniques, or equivalent. Prerequisite(s): Students must co-register in Synthesis Theory 1, PY.350.867[C]. Completion of Introduction to Computer Music required, PY.350.464(C).

PY.350.838. Digital Music Programming 2. 2 Credits.
The purpose of Digital Music Programming II combined with Synthesis Theory II is to learn to implement Digital Audio Signal Processing theories and techniques in various programming environments suited to musical composition, performance and research. In particular, we will study SuperCollider, Pd, Processing, Arduino programming, and reading realtime interfaces. Prerequisites: Synthesis Theory I and Digital Music Programming I. Corequisite: Synthesis Theory II. Prerequisite(s): Students must co-register in Synthesis Theory 2, PY.350.868[C]. Completion of Digital Music Programming 1 required, PY.350.837[C].

PY.350.840. History of Electroacoustic Music. 3 Credits.
The History of Electroacoustic Music is an overview of the development of electroacoustic music in the twentieth century. Intended for the student with little or no knowledge of this field's history and literature, the course is designed to provide a general familiarity with the major trends and developments as well as to allow for more detailed study on topics of particular interest to the class. Computer Music majors only.

PY.350.841. Research Practicum. 4 Credits.
An intensive course for those following the computer music research/technology track. Substantial individual projects will be pursued. Enrollment by permission of the instructor. Computer Music - Research Track majors only. Non-Research Track Computer Music majors may take course with department approval.

PY.350.842. Research Practicum. 4 Credits.
An intensive course for those following the computer music research/technology track. Substantial individual projects will be pursued. Enrollment by permission of the instructor. Computer Music - Research Track majors only. Non-Research Track Computer Music majors may take course with department approval; completion of previous semester required, PY.350.841[C].

PY.350.867. Synthesis Theory 1. 2 Credits.
This course examines digital signal processing techniques as applied to computer music applications. A primary focus is on the Csound music programming language. Designed for computer music majors and recording arts majors, but open to others with permission of instructor. Prerequisites: Introduction to Computer Music; Studio Techniques, or equivalent. Prerequisite(s): Students must co-register in Digital Music Programming 1, PY.350.837[C]. Completion of Introduction to Computer Music required, PY.350.464(C).
PY.350.867. Synthesis Theory 2. 2 Credits.
The purpose of Synthesis Theory II combined with Digital Music Programming II is to learn to implement Digital Audio Signal Processing theories and techniques in various programming environments suited to musical composition, performance and research. In particular, we will examine advanced synthesis theory, animation, psychoacoustic principles, algorithmic composition and video processing, and realtime hardware interfaces. Prerequisites: Synthesis Theory I and Digital Music Programming I. Corequisite: Digital Music Programming II.
Prerequisite(s): Students must co-register in Digital Music Programming 2, PY.350.838[C]. Completion of Synthesis Theory 1 required, PY.350.867[C].

PY.330.311. Conducting. 1 Credit.
A basic course in orchestral techniques. Offered fall and spring.

Designed for the student who desires more intensive study in conducting. Literature will be sequenced with the more difficult works in the Advanced Conducting course. Prerequisite: Basic Conducting or permission of instructor.

Intensive study of Afro Fusion technique providing continued development of the body as an instrument for movement with an emphasis on technique, style and composition. Dance is a continuum of learning. African Diaspora dance is the study of an ever-evolving people rooted in culture. In order to study the dance you must have an understanding of the people. In this course, when we speak of Afro-fusion we are referring to the culture, tradition and experience of people of color. More specifically, we are referring to the people that make up the African Diaspora. Traditionally, in the African community dance is interwoven into the culture of the people. Be it work or play, the body takes on a rhythm and a movement that becomes the dance of the people. Afro-Fusion Dance technique consists of a progression of strengthening exercises that increase skills of coordination, rhythm and flexibility while building core strength and endurance. Traditional styles of West African dance will be seamlessly fused with popular vernacular styles of movement.

PY.380.315. Continuo 1: Figured Bass. 2 Credits.
Designed to develop the skill of continuo playing, fluent reading and improvising from a figured bass, this course uses exercises and repertoire in a cumulative approach. Open to all qualified keyboard students as well as non-keyboard students with proficient keyboard skills and permission of the instructor.

PY.380.337. Baroque Violin/Viola Class. 1 Credit.
An introduction to the playing of early repertoire on period violin or viola and bow. The student will learn the basics of baroque technique and will be introduced to a range of music, from early Baroque to early Classical, and its interpretation from a historical perspective.
PY.380.338. Baroque Violin/Viola Class. 1 Credit.
An introduction to the playing of early repertoire on period violoncello or viola and bow. The student will learn the basics of baroque technique and will be introduced to a range of music, from early Baroque to early Classical, and its interpretation from a historical perspective.

PY.380.351. Viola Da Gamba Class. 1 Credit.
An introduction to the playing technique of the viol da gamba through easy to intermediate-level ensemble literature. A preparatory step to consort playing and the viol solo literature. Prior string experience is not necessary.

PY.380.352. Viola Da Gamba Class. 1 Credit.
An introduction to the playing technique of the viol da gamba through easy to intermediate-level ensemble literature. A preparatory step to consort playing and the viol solo literature. Prior string experience is not necessary.

PY.380.431. Baroque Oboe Class. 1 Credit.
Students will learn important tenets of 18th century performance practice by looking at major repertoire such as Bach cantatas and Passions, and sonatas and concertos by Handel and Telemann. Focus will be given to relevant examples from J.J. Quantz's 1752 treatise on performance practice. Study may be done entirely on baroque oboe, or a combination of modern oboe with some experimentation on baroque oboe.

PY.380.433. Lute Literature & Notation 1. 2 Credits.
This class will focus on the primary compositional trends and corresponding performance practices of early, middle, high and late baroque music for lute, archlute and theorbo. Each two-hour meeting will be divided into 2 parts: sharing of information from light research assignments and in-class performances of repertoire that demonstrate relevant compositional styles and performance practices, as well as points for consideration when transcribing for classical guitar. Research and performance assignments will be shared among students from week to week. Required for MM guitar majors.

PY.380.434. Lute Literature & Notation 2. 2 Credits.
Intensive study of repertoire and genres for Renaissance lute and vihuela through listening, transcribing, and performance of selected works from French, Italian, and German tablatures. Works of Francesco da Milano and John Dowland will be a main focus. Required for MM guitar majors.

PY.380.435. Viola da Gamba Literature. 1 Credit.
A chronological survey of the viola da gamba and its literature from the 16th to 18th centuries. The class will be an opportunity to become familiar with a rich repertoire little known to non-specialists, and to learn about how the world of the baroque era relates to our own. No prior experience in historical performance is required. Prerequisite: History of Music 1, 2, or permission of instructor.

PY.380.436. Early Cello Literature. 1 Credit.
A chronological survey of violoncello literature, pedagogical as well as musical, with an emphasis on historical techniques and performance practices of the 17th, 18th, and 19th centuries. No prior experience in historical performance is required, but some familiarity with cello repertoire is expected. Prerequisite: History of Music 1, 2, or permission of instructor.

PY.380.437. Baroque Violin Literature. 1 Credit.
A chronological survey of the violin and viola literature, pedagogical and musical, from its origins in the 16th century to the high baroque of the 18th century. No prior experience in historical performance is required, but some familiarity with violin repertoire is expected. Prerequisite: History of Music 1, 2, or permission of instructor.

Undergrads need PY.610.321[C] OR PY.610.322[C] in order to enroll. Grads need to have passed the Musicology Proficiency exam or passed the music history review course.

PY.380.438. Classical Strings Literature. 1 Credit.
A chronological survey of the solo and, especially, chamber music for strings from the time of Leopold Mozart through Beethoven's life and beyond, with consideration of the music's social contexts and performance practices. Included will be an overview of the pedagogical material. No prior experience in historical performance is required. Prerequisite: History of Music 1, 2, or permission of instructor.

Undergrads need PY.610.321[C] OR PY.610.322[C] in order to enroll. Grads need to have passed the Musicology Proficiency exam or passed the music history review course.

PY.380.439. Baroque Cello Class. 1 Credit.
This course combines the history of the violoncello with hands-on experience. Students have use of Peabody's recently “baroqued” instruments and work with primary source tutorials as an introduction to performance practice. Solo and ensemble playing are integral to the course. The art of bowed continuo playing is stressed and practiced in ensembles with other “original” instruments.

PY.380.440. Baroque Cello Class. 1 Credit.

PY.260.315. Evil in Philosophy, Film, & Literature. 3 Credits.
What is "evil"? How is it depicted in the arts? In order to address these texts, our two main readings this semester will be Goethe's drama
Faust and Bulgakov's novel The Master and Margarita. While Goethe's work is a tragedy, Bulgakov's novel is a satirical dark comedy. We will pair these readings with selected philosophical essays depicting, for example, Kant's theory of "radical evil," and movies, such as "Hannah Arendt." The discussion topics in this class will be challenging for their intellectual depth, but at the same time incredible fun and entertaining.

PY.260.330. Asian Representation in Film and TV. 3 Credits.
Depictions of East Asian and Asian-American characters in film and television have evolved since the earliest days of Hollywood. Alongside world events and US immigration patterns, representation shifted and a host of stereotypes emerged. Consider the wise guru, the exotic girlfriend, and the martial arts sidekick among many portrayals. This liberal arts seminar offers historical context and critical tools for analyzing and discussing these representations while gaining acquaintance with a range of films and television series.

PY.260.344. Opera: Research as Rehearsal. 3 Credits.
Interesting opera is created not just by memorizing a score and mindlessly practicing and repeating it. Thoughtful research is also a form of rehearsal. Performance can be enhanced and understanding deepened by studying an opera's literary sources, mining its historical context, viewing related artworks, and studying its production history. In other words, doing the work of a dramaturge. Every semester in which it is offered, "Research as Rehearsal" will take as its subject an opera currently being rehearsed by the Peabody Opera Theatre Program. This year we will focus on Handel's Semele, scheduled for performance in March. We will read such texts as Ovid's Metamorphoses (a literary source for the opera) and excerpts from Euripides' Bacchae (since Semele is the mother of Dionysus). We will study paintings like Gustav Moreau's Jupiter et Sémélé and Peter Paul Rubens' Death of Semele.
Since the performance will be staged in a 1920s style, we will read F.
Scott Fitzgerald's Great Gatsby and watch film versions of the novel. We will also investigate the ways in which this opera's origins in a pagan Greek myth affected its first London reception during the period of Lent and how that in turn affected future rewrites of the opera. Open to Graduates and Undergraduates.

PY.260.359. Core 3. 3 Credits.
Introduction to methods and practices in the humanities, social sciences, or natural sciences. Course objectives: ensuring competence in understanding critical methodologies and academic debate. Students will write two critical assessments involving evidence, evaluation, synthesis, and conclusion (4-6 pages each) and pass a final exam or final project. Students must earn a C+ or better to pass the course. Prerequisites:
Core 2 or approved placement.

PY.260.360. Core 4. 3 Credits.
Sustained consideration of the role of art (music, literature, fine arts, film) in all aspects of society, focusing on particular periods in history or under particular regimes and political structures. Course objectives: ensuring that students have the opportunity to think historically about the role of art and culture in political society and about the economic and cultural systems supporting the creation of art (e.g. patronage, guilds).
Students will be required to write a historical "review" of a work of art in historical context (2-3 pages) and one historical research paper (6-8 pages minimum). Students must earn a C+ or better to pass the course.
Prerequisite: Core III or approved placement.
Completion of Core 2 required, PY.260.216[C]

PY.570.569. Jazz Analysis/History 1. 2 Credits.
This course covers two main areas of focus: people and methods. It surveys the chronological origins and proliferation of jazz through various styles and artists. The development of jazz as an art form will be traced from the acculturation of Africans in America to the present day by learning about its major instrumentalists, ensembles, composers, arrangers, innovators, revivalists, and revisionists. It also explores the techniques and processes that have been employed by jazz musicians to help make it into the highly structured and evolved art form that it is today. Students will read a wide array of primary and secondary sources and listen to a range of recordings—all with the goal of discovering the various processes, meanings, functions, and experiences of jazz. This class places a strong emphasis on developing listening skills.

PY.570.570. Jazz Analysis/History 2. 2 Credits.
This course has two main areas of focus: 1) The People—a survey of the chronological history of jazz through the use of texts, recordings, videos, and guest lecturers. The development of jazz as an art form will be traced from the acculturation of Africans in America to the present day by learning about its major instrumentalists, ensembles, composers, arrangers, innovators, revivalists, and revisionists. It also explores the methods—a survey of the techniques and processes that have been employed by jazz musicians to help make it into the highly structured and evolved art form that it is today. Students will have experience with first-hand performance, arranging, and composing, along with lectures, demonstrations, and extensive discussion. Completion of Jazz Analysis/History 1 required, PY.570.569[C].

PY.570.571. Introduction to Music Education. 1 Credit.
An overview of music teaching as a profession, including an examination of contemporary philosophical and pedagogical trends in music education as well as roles and attitudes of the elementary and secondary school music teacher. Open to Music Education majors only.
Progressive Methods: Instrumental Music. 3 Credits.

Progressive Methods: Instrumental Music is designed to provide students with opportunities to develop and refine instrumental music teaching skills, strategies, and progressive techniques through teaching experiences in remote and/or in-person classroom and rehearsal settings in the public schools. Educational Psychology Content is now covered in Literacy in the Content Areas I and II. Along with best practices in pedagogy for specific instruments and voice, the weekly practicum experiences will include knowledge and practical application of learning theories, classroom management strategies and development of lesson plans with integrated literacy in the content area knowledge. The Guitar Skills component emphasizes strategies for group class instruction at the secondary level while continuing to develop guitar skills for effective modeling. Open to Music Education majors only.

Techniques for Teaching Secondary Instrumental Music. 3 Credits.

Principles of secondary education and activities of Conducting the Secondary Instrumental Ensemble (510.338), plus independent projects and workshops related to marching band/jazz ensembles. Open to certification candidates only. Open to Music Education majors only.

Progressive Methods: Secondary General/Vocal Music. 3 Credits.

A performance-based approach to teaching vocal and general music in secondary schools and continued study of an eclectic approach to teaching general music. Includes principles of secondary education, organization of instruction, selection of appropriate materials, theories of learning, and adolescent development. Elective credit may be granted for graduate courses or workshops in an area of specialization; Orff, Kodaly, Dalcroze, or Suzuki certification; courses included in JHU’s Carey Business School or School of Education. Students may also enroll in Music Education Electives through Peabody as an Independent Study, with permission of a Music Education Faculty member.

A survey of three major general music methods, Kodaly, Orff, and Dalcroze. Other methods will be covered depending on the time left in the course. Primarily for graduate Music Education majors.

PY.510.621. Graduate Practicum. 2 Credits.
Observation and guided teaching in a variety of settings, designed to enhance and expand the teaching skills of the practicing educator. Includes individualized video-taping of teaching demonstrations and follow-up conferences. Practicum experiences are arranged according to student interests and needs and may include teaching and supervisory internships.
Open to Music Education majors only.

PY.510.691. Independent Field Study. 4 Credits.
The Independent Field Study is the culmination of applied academic material gained through the graduate music education coursework. The Field Study, usually completed at the end of the degree program, will be a scholarly document dealing with current issues in music education. It may be a research project, a curriculum development project, a lecture-recital or any other type of project concerned with current music education issues. The pre-requisite: Music Bibliography and Research in Music Education courses ensure that the student has the content knowledge and skills needed to complete original research or a research informed project in their field/area of interest. The purpose of the study is to allow the graduate student to demonstrate their working knowledge of research, writing, teaching, psychology, and philosophy within the field of music education in a scholarly document. The music education instructor of the student’s choosing chairs the study.
Open to Music Education majors only.

PY.710.611. 20th-Century American Symphonic Works. 3 Credits.
This analysis course is for anyone interested in exploring the musical languages expressed within a wide variety of 20th-century American symphonic works. We will explore works by diverse American composers, contextualize their practices via short readings, and develop several analytical approaches to illuminate their music. Special emphasis will be placed on the development of a nuanced foundation from which students will learn to respond critically to the discourse of culturally responsive intersectional analysis.
Graduate students must meet music theory seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course. Undergraduates must be Composition or Computer Music majors; Open to Composition, Computer Music, and Theory minor Undergraduate students; must first complete PY.710.212[C] or PY.710.214[C].

PY.710.612. Mozart. 3 Credits.
This course delves into the music of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart. We will cover genres including solo sonatas, concertos, chamber music, symphonies, and opera, as well as a range of musical forms. Works will come from both earlier and later periods in Mozart’s short life, though the focus will be on his maturity. In some cases we will also briefly examine other contemporary composers in order to better understand what sets Mozart apart and has made him so uniquely beloved. While it is not a performance practice class, we will discuss current understanding of certain performance practice issues in the course of our study, and a range of recordings will be used to demonstrate evolving understandings of this style.
Graduate students must meet music theory seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course. Undergraduates must be Composition or Computer Music majors; Open to Composition, Computer Music, and Theory minor Undergraduate students; must first complete PY.710.212[C] or PY.710.214[C].

PY.710.613. Music And Meaning. 3 Credits.
A consideration of how meaning is conveyed in tonal music. This course includes discussion of semiotic and formalist approaches to characterizing meaning in absolute music, while working towards an inclusive method of analysis considering expressivity as emanating from formal structure. Graduate students must meet music theory seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course. Undergraduates must be Composition or Computer Music majors; Open to Composition, Computer Music, and Theory minor Undergraduate students; must first complete PY.710.212[C] or PY.710.214[C].

PY.710.614. Why We Get Chills: Music Analysis Meets Cognition. 3 Credits.
This course consults literature in the field of music cognition to explore how it may inform music analysis, which in turn has implications for both performer and listener. Open to Composition, Computer Music, and Theory minor Undergraduate students; must first complete PY.710.212[C] or PY.710.214[C]. Graduate students must meet music theory seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course. Undergraduates must be Composition or Computer Music majors.

PY.710.619. Chamber Music Analysis. 3 Credits.
Analysis of chamber music in various styles, with particular emphasis on works being currently performed in Peabody's chamber music program. Open to Composition, Computer Music, and Theory minor Undergraduate students; must first complete PY.710.212[C] or PY.710.214[C]. Graduate students must meet music theory seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course. Undergraduates must be Composition or Computer Music majors.

PY.710.620. Song Analysis. 3 Credits.
An exploration of the interactions between text and music within the art-song repertoire from various style periods, drawing on theories of drama, linguistics, cognition, and music. Open to graduate students only. Graduate students must meet music theory seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course. Undergraduates must be Composition or Computer Music majors; Open to Composition, Computer Music, and Theory minor Undergraduate students; must first complete PY.710.212[C] or PY.710.214[C].
PY.710.622. Music Of Scriabin - Pitch Structure/Form. 3 Credits.
The study of musical content in relation to harmonic, tonal, motivic and formal aspects of Scriabin’s technique. A significant part of the discussions will be devoted to innovations in pitch structure and form, as well as large-scale musical projects of Scriabin. In particular, we will cover the topics of three stylistic periods in Scriabin’s biography, the evolution of his harmony on the examples of harmonic analysis of preludes, études, piano miniatures and orchestral compositions. The format of this seminar will include student performances, short presentations and exercises in harmonization.

Open to Composition, Computer Music, and Theory minor Undergraduate students; must first complete PY.710.212[C] or PY.710.214[C]. Graduate students must meet music theory seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course. Undergraduates must be Composition or Computer Music majors.

PY.710.624. Amy Beach & Florence Price. 3 Credits.
Open to Composition, Computer Music, and Theory minor Undergraduate students; must first complete PY.710.212[C] or PY.710.214[C]. Graduate students must meet music theory seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course. Undergraduates must be Composition or Computer Music majors.

PY.710.625. Dance Music of the Renaissance. 3 Credits.
The study of Renaissance dance as a crucial source for the formation of the common practice styles. Open to Composition, Computer Music, and Theory minor Undergraduate students; must first complete PY.710.212[C] or PY.710.214[C].

PY.715.119. Ear Training 1 Intensive. 2 Credits.
This course focuses upon the development of sight-singing and dictation skills from the diatonic major and minor modes. Open to undergraduate students only.

PY.715.120. Ear Training 2 Intensive. 2 Credits.
This course continues a study of diatonic music through sight-singing and dictation skills, with an increased emphasis on harmonic dictation and subdivisions of the beat. Open to undergraduate students only who have successfully completed Ear Training 1. Completion of Ear Training/Sightsinging Intensive 1 required, PY.715.119[C].

PY.715.123. Ear Training 1. 2 Credits.
This course focuses upon the development of sight-singing and dictation skills from the diatonic major and minor modes. Open to undergraduate students only.

PY.715.124. Ear Training 2. 2 Credits.
This course continues a study of diatonic music through sight-singing and dictation skills, with an increased emphasis on harmonic dictation and subdivisions of the beat. Open to undergraduate students only who have successfully completed Ear Training 1. Completion of Ear Training/Sightsinging 1 required, PY.715.123[C].

PY.715.125. Ear Training Perfect Pitch 1. 2 Credits.
A Perfect Pitch accelerated version of Ear Training 1 (710.123) and Ear Training 2 (710.223) that covers the material of the two-year course in one year. Open to undergraduate students only. Completion of Ear Training/Sightsinging Perfect Pitch 1 required, PY.715.125[C].

PY.715.223. Ear Training 3. 2 Credits.
This course introduces concepts of tonicization and modulation through sight-singing and dictation skills. Additional topics include reading C clefs in Bach chorales, hearing structure in compositions in binary form, and rhythmic techniques such as syncopation. Open to undergraduate students only who have taken or passed out of Ear Training 1+2. Completion of previous course needed, PY.715.124[C] or PY.715.120[C].

PY.715.224. Ear Training 4. 2 Credits.
This course continues a study of chromatic music through sight-singing and dictation skills with an increased emphasis on modulating to far-related keys, advanced rhythmic techniques, diatonic modes, and aural study of large-scale forms such as sonata form. Open to undergraduate students only who have successfully completed Ear Training 3. Completion of Ear Training/Sightsinging 3 required, PY.715.223[C].

PY.715.226. Ear Training Perfect Pitch 2. 2 Credits.
A Perfect Pitch accelerated version of Ear-Training 1 (710.123) and Ear-Training 2 (710.223) that covers the material of the two-year course in one year. Open to undergraduate students only. Completion of Ear Training/Sightsinging Perfect Pitch 1 required, PY.715.125[C].

PY.715.323. Ear Training 5. 2 Credits.
After a short review of highly chromatic late 19th- and early 20th-century music, this class focuses on atonal music, beginning with the late works of Liszt and Wolf and continuing into the music of today. Open to undergraduates who have successfully completed PY.715.224 (Ear Training 4) or PY.715.226 (Ear Training Perfect Pitch) and all graduate students. Undergraduates need to have completed PY.715.224[C] or PY.715.226[C]. Graduate students must satisfy the music theory proficiency requirement.

PY.715.425. Ear Training Review.
A graduate review course in the principles of ear-training, dictation, sight-singing, and clefs. Open to graduate students only.

A graduate review course in the principles of ear-training, dictation, sight-singing, and clefs. Open to graduate students only.

PY.715.155. Keyboard Studies 1. 2 Credits.
A study of basic skills involved in reading, harmonization, transposition, improvisation, and analysis. Section assignments are determined by audition. To be taken in conjunction with Music Theory 1-2. Open to undergraduate students only.

PY.715.156. Keyboard Studies 2. 2 Credits.
A study of basic skills involved in reading, harmonization, transposition, improvisation, and analysis. Section assignments are determined by audition. To be taken in conjunction with Music Theory 1-2. Open to undergraduate students only. Completion of Keyboard Studies 1 required, PY.715.155[C].

PY.715.157. Keyboard Studies 1-2. 2 Credits.
An accelerated study of basic skills involved in reading, harmonization, transposition, improvisation, and analysis. Section assignments are determined by audition. To be taken in conjunction with Music Theory 1-2. Open to undergraduate students only.

PY.715.255. Keyboard Studies 3. 2 Credits.
A continuation of PY.715.155-156, Keyboard Studies 1 & 2. Emphasis on harmonic and formal analysis as tools for sight-reading and memorization. Repertoire includes solo and duet works, accompaniments, and score-reading. To be taken in conjunction with Music Theory 3-4. Open to undergraduate students only. Completion of PY.715.156[C] or PY.715.157[C] required.
PY.715.256. Keyboard Studies 4. 2 Credits.
A continuation of 710.155-156, Keyboard Studies 1 & 2. Emphasis on harmonic and formal analysis as tools for sight-reading and memorization. Repertoire includes solo and duet works, accompaniments, and score-reading. To be taken in conjunction with Music Theory 3-4. Open to undergraduate students only.
Completion of Keyboard Studies 3 required, PY.715.255[C].

PY.715.258. Keyboard Studies 3-4. 2 Credits.
An accelerated study of basic skills involved in reading, harmonization, transposition, improvisation, and analysis. Section assignments are determined by audition. To be taken in conjunction with Music Theory 1-2 or Music Theory 3-4. Open to undergraduate students only.
Completion of Keyboard Studies 1-2 required, PY.715.157[C].

PY.610.321. History of Music 1. 3 Credits.
A survey of music in the Western classical tradition from antiquity to the late 17th century.
Prerequisite(s): Students cannot take more than one Music History at the same time.
Sophomores must have completed PY.260.115[C] AND PY.260.216[C] in order to enroll in this course.

PY.610.322. History of Music 2. 3 Credits.
A survey of music in the Western classical tradition from the early 18th century to the late 19th century.
Prerequisite(s): Students cannot take more than one Music History at the same time.
Sophomores must have completed PY.260.115[C] AND PY.260.216[C] in order to enroll in this course.

PY.610.323. History of Music 3. 3 Credits.
A survey of music in the Western classical tradition from the early 20th century to the present day.
Prerequisite(s): Students cannot take more than one Music History at the same time.
Sophomores must have completed PY.260.115[C] AND PY.260.216[C] in order to enroll in this course.

PY.610.324. Music History in Global Contexts. 3 Credits.

PY.610.414. Musicology Practicum. 1 Credit.

PY.610.601. Music History Review.
A review course covering classical antiquity to the 21st century. Students must earn a passing grade in this course before enrolling in graduate seminars in Musicology. Open to graduate students only. Offered in the summer and fall.

PY.610.605. English Music from Dunstable to Adès. 3 Credits.
In this seminar we'll explore the roots and developments of English music across nearly seven centuries. Divided into a series of case studies centered around composers, major works, and institutions, this course will investigate English music from a variety of angles. We begin with the organum of the High Middle Ages, explore the Tudor polyphony of the English Reformation, courtly music of the Restoration, Thomas Arne, George Frederic Handel, the English choral revival, Stanford, Elgar, Holst, Vaughan Williams, and Britten. We end our inquiry with the diverse musical paths English music has taken in the last fifty years, finally stopping with Adès's recent opera, The Exterminating Angel. The aim of this course is twofold, to provide students with a clear chronology and to familiarize them with important repertoire, while still addressing critical issues in interaction between music and theology, politics, and gender—to name a few
Graduate students must meet musicology seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course.; Undergraduates need to have successfully completed 2 out of 3 following courses in order to register: PY.610.321[C], PY.610.322[C], PY.610.323[C].

PY.610.606. Decolonizing Ethnomusicology. 3 Credits.
This course will examine the colonialist underpinnings of ethnomusicology and its persistent effects on current understandings of music in a global context. We will analyze foundational texts in the field, along with newer works that attempt to undo the colonialist legacy upon which the discipline is built.

PY.610.608. George Gershwin's World. 3 Credits.
This course is designed as a series of highlights. We will explore a wide range of musical works and cultural topics related to George Gershwin's life and career. Questions to be posed over the course of the semester will include: Who were Gershwin's colleagues and collaborators? How did Gershwin's music interact with the racial terrain of American culture during the Jim Crow era? And does it continue to engage with issues of race today? How has Gershwin's legacy been shaped by American political and business interests? Did technology play a role in the shaping of his "American" sound? If yes, then how did technology influence Gershwin's creative identity? Students will be asked to lead discussions about Gershwin's compositions, so success is dependent upon setting aside blocks of time on a regular basis to complete the various listening and reading assignments. Written assignments will include creating annotated playlists related to various facets of Gershwin's career and a final research paper/long-form essay that relates to material discussed in class.
Undergraduates need to have successfully completed 2 out of 3 following courses in order to register: PY.610.321[C], PY.610.322[C], PY.610.323[C]; Graduate students must meet musicology seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course.

PY.610.609. Music Therapy from Antiquity to Today. 3 Credits.
Graduate students must meet musicology seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course.; Undergraduates need to have successfully completed 2 out of 3 following courses in order to register: PY.610.321[C], PY.610.322[C], PY.610.323[C].
PY.610.610. Nadia Boulanger. 3 Credits.
Cited as "the most influential teacher since Socrates," Nadia Boulanger (1887-1979) taught and nurtured generations of young musicians throughout her adult life. Among renowned American composers whom she mentored are Aaron Copland, Elliott Carter, Quincy Jones, and Philip Glass. Who was this extraordinary woman who witnessed two world wars and distinguished herself as a legendary pedagogue? What were her teaching methods? How did a Parisienne guide and shape the career trajectories of so many American composers and musicians? This class will explore these questions and many more. In addition to examining history and identifying Boulanger’s impact on the current state of musical composition, our course will initiate an oral history project to capture the accounts of the last generation of musicians to work directly with Boulanger toward preserving her legacy.
Graduate students must meet musicology seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course. Undergraduates need to have successfully completed 2 out of 3 following courses in order to register: PY.610.321[C], PY.610.322[C], PY.610.323[C].

PY.610.611. American Film Music and Classical Hollywood Style. 3 Credits.
Film and music have always shared an intimate relationship. Classical Hollywood style dominates the American film industry, dictating the look and sound of most films. Yet filmmakers have always challenged this status quo. Through close viewings—and listenings—of film, we will pursue a more concrete understanding of how music guides our film comprehension, explore how American film music continues to develop, and evaluate how these varied approaches shape the societies in which we live. During this course, you will hone your skills as an academic writer by learning to critically evaluate and craft your own arguments about the roles of music/sound in film. Some of the films covered will include King’s Row (1942), Rebecca (1940), Touch of Evil (1958), Vertigo (1958), Breakfast at Tiffany’s (1961), Batman (1989), The Remains of the Day (1993), The Social Network (2010), It Happened on Beale Street (2018), and Midsommar (2019). Our topics of inquiry will include representations of jazz, the role of the acousmatic voice, the use of pre-existing music, auteurism, the musically-politically subversive, musical appropriation, and media convergence with digital technologies. Your work will include readings in which we interact with both current and classic scholarly literature; short writing responses that respond to our films and the issues they raise (15-300 words); a short paper focused on the close reading of a scene (800 words); and a final research project on a film music topic of your choice (3000 words). This final project may take different forms—from a recorded analytical film commentary to a more traditional academic paper. Paired with writing workshops and peer review exercises, you will develop the skills necessary to contribute to the greater academic community, write clearly and logically for your intended audience, and formulate original, persuasive arguments.

PY.610.612. Vocal Contests. 3 Credits.
This course examines voice contests across time. While contests such as American Idol have received widespread attention, these competitions must be understood in terms of a much broader trend towards the proliferation of music prizes, both within and outside the classical music tradition. Our course examines the deep history of the current obsession with voice contests, with examples drawn from the Ancient Greece to the current day. Together we will ask: what sustains the power of prizes? What has driven their incredible proliferation since the outset of the twentieth century, when the Nobel, Pulitzer and modern-day Olympic prizes were first awarded? How does prize culture motor the classical- and popular-music industries? And how should musicians best maneuver themselves within modern-day economics of prestige? While the focus of our course is on vocal contests, this course will be of relevance to all those with an interest in how musical value is created—and tastes shaped—by prize-giving institutions.

PY.610.613. Stravinsky Perspectives. 3 Credits.
The critical literature addressing the music and aesthetic orientations of Igor Stravinsky (1882–1971) encompasses multiple frames of reference: ritual, discontinuity, octatonicism, neoclassicism, serialism, Russianness, and more. This seminar will sample prominent approaches in scholarship on Stravinsky, tracing several debates and examining representative works.

PY.610.614. Mahler and Strauss in America. 3 Credits.
In April 1904, Richard Strauss undertook a whirlwind tour of the United States in which he was heralded as the “lion of the musical hour.” Four years later in January 1908, Gustav Mahler made his own American debut, inaugurating a spectacular but troubled relationship with both the New York Philharmonic and the Metropolitan Opera. Their receptions could not have been more different. In this course we use Strauss and Mahler as a lens through which to understand both German and American art at the Fin de Siècle. We will discuss American concert culture, performance practice, and the phenomenon of the celebrity concert tour. We will explore the works that Strauss and Mahler wrote and premiered in this period and their increasingly divergent careers. Finally, we will investigate how Americans, grappling with European art, tried to define their own.

PY.610.616. Sound Memories: Jazz Autobiography and Memoir. 3 Credits.
In the words of Henry Louis Gates, Jr., “The will to power for black Americans was the will to write; and the predominant mode that this writing would assume was the shaping of a black self in words.” What did the shaping of the black self in words mean for those whose primary mode of expression was musical and improvisational? In their autobiographies and memoirs, jazz musicians’ discursive self-invention would appear to be born of materials and processes akin to those of jazz itself: full of polyrhythms, spontaneous riffing, call and response, and turnarounds. This course examines the autobiographies and memoirs of central figures, such as Ethel Waters, Louis Armstrong, Sidney Bechet, Jelly Roll Morton, Duke Ellington, Billie Holiday, Charles Mingus, Dizzy Gillespie, and Miles Davis. We will ask what relationship these texts bear to musical performances and personas: compositionally, aesthetically, and as represented by other media. For example, do they perpetuate or rather stand in opposition to various jazz mythologies such as the musicians’ intuitive genius or sensationalized drug use? What roles do these myths serve? If together jazz autobiographies can be said to constitute a genre, might these sophisticated textual performances comprise a counter-narrative to official histories of jazz and speak a different kind of truth to power? Note: Lara Pellegrinelli is a new adjunct faculty member who is also teaching for Zane Forshee in the Breakthrough Curriculum this spring. It appears that she does not yet have a JHED ID. Patrick Wallen DOES have her contract details (both from Zane and from me). Please let me know what else I may need to do in order to get her into the system and get her course scheduled.
Undergraduates need to have successfully completed 2 out of 3 following courses in order to register: PY.610.321[C], PY.610.322[C], PY.610.323[C]. Graduate students must meet musicology seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course.
PY.610.617. Experimental Music since 1950. 3 Credits.
This course explores the construction of the idea of “experimental” music since around 1950. We will consider the work of numerous individuals, groups, and movements including John Cage and the New York School, the Chicago-based AACM, the Darmstadt circle, the Lower East Side loft jazz scene, Cornelius Cardew and the Scratch Orchestra, and Fluxus. Through the study of recordings (commercial and archival), scores, artists’ writings, and scholarly literature, we will develop historical and aesthetic understanding of the varied practices that helped create the notion of musical experimentalism. Finally, we will study more recent experimental work including that being done in Baltimore at venues such as the Red Room and at festivals such as High Zero. Graduate students must meet musicology seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course. Undergraduates need to have successfully completed 2 out of 3 following courses in order to register: PY.610.321[C], PY.610.322[C], PY.610.323[C].
PY.610.618. German Song in the 19th Century. 3 Credits.
This course considers the repertoire of nineteenth-century German art song through a focused study of the works of four major figures: Schubert, Schumann, Brahms, and Wolf. We will address theories of text in music, evolving notions of the song “cycle,” analytical approaches to the lied, and the place of the lied within the social sphere. We will devote particular attention to Schubert’s Die schöne Müllerin and Winterreise, Schumann’s Dichterliebe, and Brahms’s Vier ernste Gesänge. Graduate students must meet musicology seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course. Undergraduates need to have successfully completed 2 out of 3 following courses in order to register: PY.610.321[C], PY.610.322[C], PY.610.323[C].
PY.610.619. Music & Leadership. 3 Credits.
PY.610.620. Social Innovation through Music: Health, Education, and Policy. 3 Credits.
PY.610.621. Exoticism on the Musical Stage. 3 Credits.
Creators of musical works have been continually drawn towards the idea of the “other,” wanting to represent on the stage characters that they perceive as culturally different or outside the norms of their own society. This course focuses on musical works for the stage that contain representations of the “other,” examining how text, music, and staging all work in different ways to exoticize certain characters. Works discussed will include Rameau’s Les Indes galantes (1735), Mozart’s Die Zauberflöte (1791), Bizet’s Carmen (1875), Sullivan’s The Mikado (1885), and Bernstein’s West Side Story (1957), as well as more recent adaptations of these works such as Carmen Jones (1943), Carmen: A Hip Hopera (2001), and the upcoming new West Side Story film (2021). We will address the historical contexts of these works, not to excuse them for their stereotyping practices, but to learn the social, economic, and aesthetic contexts that contributed to their original receptions. In addition, we will examine our own responses to these pieces and discuss the ethics of performing these works today. Undergraduates need to have successfully completed 2 out of 3 following courses in order to register: PY.610.321[C], PY.610.322[C], PY.610.323[C]. Graduate students must meet musicology seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course.
PY.610.622. Beethoven String Quartets. 3 Credits.
This class uses Beethoven’s string quartets as a lens through which to consider larger issues of Beethoven scholarship. We will pair an in-depth study of the works themselves with an examination of a variety of issues important to Beethoven (and to musical inquiry in general), such as the history and inherited traditions of the string quartet, music in an evolving capitalist marketplace, the notion of the individual Romantic composer-genius, deafness and the late style, and historical performance practice. Throughout, we will consider the specific roles and responsibilities that performers and scholars share in bringing these magnificent works to life. Graduate students must meet musicology seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course. Undergraduates need to have successfully completed 2 out of 3 following courses in order to register: PY.610.321[C], PY.610.322[C], PY.610.323[C].
PY.610.624. England’s Queen/Opera’s Muse. 3 Credits.
Music flourished in the court of Queen Elizabeth I, who reigned from 1558-1603. Composers thrived in all genres: secular and sacred, instrumental and vocal. Centuries later, the legendary monarch inspired opera composers such as Rossini, Donizetti, and Britten to create musical works dramatizing the renaissance queen’s life. This course reviews the masterpieces of English renaissance and also examines the rich operatic works depicting the royal heroine. Topics to be addressed will include nineteenth century continental reception of English history and twentieth century revivals of the Elizabethan lore. Graduate students must meet musicology seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course. Undergraduates need to have successfully completed 2 out of 3 following courses in order to register: PY.610.321[C], PY.610.322[C], PY.610.323[C].
PY.610.626. Technologies in the Concert Hall & Opera House. 3 Credits.
In this seminar we consider material and mechanical complexities of musical events. In successive weeks we examine issues such as: how orchestras have historically been directed; auditoriums illuminated; stage machines used and operas sutilled. Our discussion will be grounded in concrete circumstances at particular venues in locations as diverse as Paris, Bayreuth and New York. Together we will examine some core questions: what did material conventions established at individual venues mean for those who produced and consumed musical works; what was at stake when innovations were introduced, and—above all—how do material conventions established in the past continue to have a hold over musical productions today?
Graduate students must meet musicology seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course. Undergraduates need to have successfully completed 2 out of 3 following courses in order to register: PY.610.321[C], PY.610.322[C], PY.610.323[C].

PY.610.627. Changing Tunes: Pre-Existing Music in Film. 3 Credits.
Music and film have always shared an intimate relationship. From its inception, film has been injected with pre-existing music, including chant, traditional Western composers from Beethoven to Bartók, and more contemporary artists from the Beatles to Beyoncé. This music has influenced American and international film industries alike, shaping the look and sound of film. Through close viewings—and listenings—of film, we will investigate the meaning(s) these musical works can acquire as they are re-used and re-purposed. Similarly, we will explore how, through film, pre-existing music can live on, change, and reify the past through contexts beyond the concert consumption with which we may be more familiar. During this course, we will hone your skills as an academic writer by learning to critically evaluate and craft arguments about the roles of music/sound in film. Some of the topics covered include: canonical works from the 18th and 19th centuries, the use of 20th-century avant garde music in horror, representations of jazz, chant and other medieval genres, anachronistic uses, and popular song. Your work will include studying film clips and full-length films; readings; short writing responses (100-200 words); four short papers focused on close readings of scenes or other supplied prompts (1000-1500 words); and a midterm project. Paired with writing workshops and peer review exercises, you will develop the skills necessary to contribute to the greater academic community, write clearly and logically for your intended audience, and formulate original, persuasive arguments.

PY.610.628. New Directions in Beethoven Scholarship. 3 Credits.
There would seem to be little left to learn about Beethoven. The common understanding of the composer as a temperamental, solitary genius, cursed with a tragic hearing loss—often credited with spurring him to produce the world's most profound music—has changed little over the past century and a half. What might remain to be studied? This course takes up the challenge, reconsidering the well-known features of the composer's life, work, and legacy through examining trends in Beethoven scholarship of the last 25 years. What did "heroism" sound like in music, and did Beethoven's contemporaries hear the music in this way? What were the political forces behind Beethoven's work? What can we learn by historicizing the notion of "genius"? How can disability studies inflect our understanding of Beethoven's deafness? And what can Beethoven's conversation books—recently published for the first time in English translation—show us about his life? Through asking these questions, we will consider what various historiographical methods, such as microhistory, disability studies, and actor-network theory, have to offer the study of a repertoire most commonly approached through biography. Consideration of these questions will inevitably shed light on the inherited value systems that make up contemporary musical life, many of which are inherited from nineteenth-century Beethoven reception.

PY.610.631. Sound Studies. 3 Credits.
What do cultural histories of listening tell us about the value we have ascribed to music at various points in time? And how have the invention of media from the musical score to the MP3 altered how we conceive of music as sound? "Sound Studies" is not a course in which we learn about the acoustic properties of noises or pitches (however interesting such matters may be) but rather a historical course, in which we consider how we can enrich our histories of music when we situate music within broader histories of sound. Our seminars, for instance, consider historical moments when we have listened to sound for truth (as when confessions were first recorded) or other forms of concrete information (as when sound was first communicated across phone lines) and examines how these practices did—and sometimes did not—shape ideas about how we should compose, circulate and consume music. Our case studies will be drawn from the medieval era to the current day.

PY.610.633. Reenacting Orpheus. 3 Credits.
This course addresses retellings of the Orpheus myth from Monteverdi's L'Orfeo (1607) to Mitchell's Hadestown (2010) and Aucoin's Eurydice (2020). We consider why this myth is so compelling to composers and librettists and explore the complexities involved in adapting the same subject for new audiences.

PY.610.634. Baroque Performance Practice. 3 Credits.
This class provides a detailed overview of prevalent performance conventions in the Baroque era as revealed by primary sources, as well as some insight into why these matters are important and what drives the early music movement. Required of all Historical Performance MM students.
Graduate students must meet musicology seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course. Undergraduates need to have successfully completed 2 out of 3 following courses in order to register: PY.610.321[C], PY.610.322[C], PY.610.323[C].

PY.610.636. Three American Composer-Writers: John Cage, Anthony Braxton, Pauline Oliveros. 3 Credits.

PY.610.637. Topics In Music Cognition. 3 Credits.
This introductory course explores relevant research and theory in the emerging domain of music perception and cognition. Graduate students must meet musicology seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course. Undergraduates need to have successfully completed 2 out of 3 following courses in order to register: PY.610.321[C], PY.610.322[C], PY.610.323[C].

PY.610.638. Topics In Music Cognition 2. 3 Credits.
This introductory course explores relevant research and theory in the emerging domain of music perception and cognition. Graduate students must meet musicology seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course. Undergraduates need to have successfully completed 2 out of 3 following courses in order to register: PY.610.321[C], PY.610.322[C], PY.610.323[C].

PY.610.639. Music in the Multimedia Franchise. 3 Credits.
Music defines our media experiences. Musical themes can likewise go beyond their original audiovisual framework to operate as musically-cultural texts. This online, asynchronous course uses music as a tool to investigate musical branding and the creation of meaning in the media we consume every day. Through close viewings - and listenings - of films, television episodes, video games, commercials, and other media, this course will explore the meaning(s) these media construct and acquire as both they and their music are re-used and re-purposed in multimedia franchises that expand their content into myriads of installments and platforms.

PY.610.640. Topics in Ethnomusicology. 3 Credits.

PY.610.642. Unraveling Ravel: Beyond Bolero. 3 Credits.
Paradoxically accessible and esoteric, Maurice Ravel's music resides in the canonical repertoire of practically every conservatory student. Yet Ravel's relationship to his own musical training was fraught both as a pianist and composer. This course examines the life and works of the French composer whose legacy permeates the practice rooms of Peabody. Beyond a survey of his compositional output, this seminar will examine the era that produced Ravel. France at the turn of the century, Ravel's studies at the Paris Conservatory, and his relationship with his musical contemporaries will all be topics of discussion. All musicians are welcome to take this class.
Graduate students must meet musicology seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course. Undergraduates need to have successfully completed 2 out of 3 following courses in order to register: PY.610.321[C], PY.610.322[C], PY.610.323[C].

PY.610.643. Popular Music in Global Perspective. 3 Credits.
Popular music(s)—while they often share certain practices of production and distribution—are made, performed, and enjoyed around the world in a wide variety of languages, genres, and contexts. They are also closely tied to a range of social practices, political projects, and economic concerns as varied as the contexts in which these styles are produced and consumed. In this course, we will examine the production, consumption, and circulation of popular musics in multiple national and transnational contexts. We will discuss ways in which a global perspective might complicate common Western understandings of popular music aesthetics, categorization, and participation. Finally, through a series of case studies, we will seek to understand both the breadth of practice in popular musics and how these musics and the values embedded in them may both support and disrupt global patterns of influence, exchange, and domination.
Undergraduates need to have successfully completed 2 out of 3 following courses in order to register: PY.610.321[C], PY.610.322[C], PY.610.323[C]. Graduate students must meet musicology seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course.

PY.610.644. 19thC Performance Practice. 3 Credits.
This class provides a survey of prevalent performance conventions in the nineteenth century as revealed by primary sources, as well as some insight into why these matters are important and what constitutes the so-called Historically Informed Performance (HIP) perspective.
Graduate students must meet musicology seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course. Undergraduates need to have successfully completed 2 out of 3 following courses in order to register: PY.610.321[C], PY.610.322[C], PY.610.323[C].
PY.610.650. Pink Noise: Women Making Electronic Music. 3 Credits.
How do the innovations of women making electronic music complicate notions of listening, music history, and the nature of music? Instead of conceptualizing gender and technology as discrete, oppositional, and universally open, this seminar explores electronic music through the lens of feminist critical frameworks and musical analyses in tandem with models of listening—notably Deep Listening as promulgated by Pauline Oliveros and Hildegard Westerkamp’s approach to “conscious listening.” Inspired and guided by Tara Rodgers’ seminal anthology of interviews, Pink Noises: Women on Electronic Music and Sound, we discuss the work, struggles, triumphs, and techniques of pioneers including Daphne Oram, Pauline Oliveros, Wendy Carlos, Ruth Anderson, and Adrian Piper. We will also examine contemporary innovators and cyberfeminist speculative futures. Along with readings and seminar discussion, course activities include research presentations, listening sessions, brief performances, and composition projects.
Undergraduates need to have successfully completed 2 out of 3 following courses in order to register: PY.610.321[C], PY.610.322[C], PY.610.323[C]. Graduate students must meet musicology seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course.

PY.610.651. Foundations of Music Research. 2 Credits.
This course introduces research from the roles of consuming and then creating materials with a focus on how research is created, disseminated, and accessed. Scholars analyze and produce a variety research outputs relevant for music researchers and performing professionals. Students engage with secondary and archival research materials, discuss how to publish and disseminate their own research, and explore how information is organized to optimize the use of academic library resources now and post-graduation. Open to MM and undergraduate Musicology minor students only. Fall and spring.

PY.610.652. Applied Ethnomusicology and Public Musicology. 3 Credits.
The disciplines of ethnomusicology and musicology regularly employ a valuable set of intellectual tools for understanding, discussing, contextualizing, and performing music. What value do scholarly insights such as these have outside of the academy and how might they be put to work? “Applied” ethnomusicology and “public” musicology use the scholarly insights of the two fields in service of a range of practical or entrepreneurial projects and writing that addresses a broad audience. In this course, we will discuss a variety of such projects, as well as some of the ethical and practical concerns that arise when scholars engage with their publics. We will practice multiple styles of writing useful to public-facing scholarship, including grant proposals, program notes, and think pieces. Through both discussion and hands-on experience, we will explore the division between strictly academic and public-facing or applied research, questioning the utility and limits of this boundary. Graduate students must meet musicology seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course; Undergraduates need to have successfully completed 2 out of 3 following courses in order to register: PY.610.321[C], PY.610.322[C], PY.610.323[C].

PY.610.653. What was Postmodernism?. 3 Credits.
Few –isms have caused more disagreement and general confusion than “postmodernism.” Pervasively discussed (at least in some quarters) from the 1970s through the mid-1990s, the term has been considerably less dominant in recent years. Yet music students continue to encounter it in textbooks and survey courses as something like the “official” style of the late twentieth century. It is worth asking, then, just what we are talking about when we talk about postmodernism. This course explores the history of the idea in architecture, literary theory, and historiography, among other fields. Our particular emphasis, however, will be on the notion of postmodernism in music. In addition to reading many of the classics of postmodern theory, we will study a wide range of composers and musicians including George Rochberg, Pamela Z, Mauricio Kagel, DJ Spooky, Alfred Schnittke, Laurie Anderson, George Lewis, The Velvet Underground, Helmut Lachenmann, Arthur Russell, and Marina Rosenfeld among others.

PY.610.654. Music of the Arab World. 3 Credits.
Study of the music of the Arab world reveals a rich art music tradition, elaborate melodic and rhythmic systems, a central role for improvisation, and a complex relationship to the sacred realm. This seminar will examine the theory, performance practice, repertoires, and cultural and historical contexts of Arabic art music, and incorporate work on aural recognition of modes, rhythmic cycles, genres, and performance phenomena. Building on this foundation, students will also survey the sounds of Islam in the Arab world, aspects of Arab identity in music, and musical change in the twentieth century.

PY.610.655. Child Stars. 3 Credits.
Over the last century, the child as performer has played a central—if often unacknowledged—role in the Western cultural imagination. Occupying a third space between “real” children and adults, the child star has functioned as a surface upon which (adult) audiences can project their fears and fantasies about the future, the past, innocence, sexuality, talent, and human nature. This course examines the work that child stars perform for Western society at large, pulling apart the various ways that this enduring and meaningful area of performance acquires cultural, economic, and political significance. We’ll focus on the careers of young classical music virtuosos, television and film stars, and the Disney-promoted singers of the last few decades; our readings will draw from labor history, race and gender studies, and theories of children’s literature. We will ask the following questions: Why is child stardom generally limited to the performing arts (rather than the visual arts, literature, or musical composition)? Why are contemporary child stars always accompanied by a tragic narrative of “lost” childhood, even as their exceptional status is translated into the kind of wealth and recognition that many adults dream of? And what are the ethical issues in promoting, consuming, and sometimes exploiting children’s talent?

PY.610.658. Beethoven at Work. 3 Credits.
How did Ludwig van Beethoven compose? Modern-day musicians are extraordinarily fortunate that Beethoven saved his work in various stages of completion. Through his surviving autographs and sketches, we have the ability to trace his early ideas to their eventual fruition. The simple becomes sophisticated; the seemingly rapid can be enlivened or abandoned altogether. Perhaps as inspiring as the grandeur of these compositions in their final form is Beethoven's industry and sheer diligence so clearly evident in the sources. This seminar provides performers an opportunity to examine and analyze Beethoven's compositional process and exposes them to practical research tools. This course also delves into evolving musicological trends by accessing digital archives located throughout the world. A visit to the Library of Congress in Washington DC will be scheduled. All musicians are welcome.

PY.610.665. Music and Politics. 3 Credits.
This course examines the many ways that music intersected with the global politics of the twentieth century. Focusing primarily (though not exclusively) on the Cold War period, we will explore arts policy in both capitalist and communist nations; examine the roles music and musicians played in state diplomacy; and ask how music functioned between the poles of protest and complicity. Along the way we will pose larger questions about the complex roles a non-material art form can play in the exercise of power, among them: How can music have a political meaning beyond direct references to a state or ideology? What constitutes political “action”? Can a truly apolitical art exist? Graduate students must meet musicology seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course; Undergraduates need to have successfully completed 2 out of 3 following courses in order to register: PY.610.321[C], PY.610.322[C], PY.610.323[C].

PY.610.671. Issues in Ethnomusicology. 3 Credits.
An introduction to the theories and methods of ethnomusicology. Topics include transcription and analysis, fieldwork, performance practice, and intercultural aesthetics.
Graduate students must meet musicology seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course; Undergraduates need to have successfully completed 2 out of 3 following courses in order to register: PY.610.321[C], PY.610.322[C], PY.610.323[C].

PY.610.672. Ethnomusicology of Western Art Music. 3 Credits.
In this seminar, students will survey an emerging body of writing about the music of the Western classical tradition not as a series of musical works and composer biographies, but as a practice of people making music. One might think of it as an anthropology of art music. Readings will examine conservatory cultures and specific cultural moments of different European, transnational, and global cultures of Western Art Music. Though ethnomusicology typically confines itself to “non-western” or “world” music, the West’s classical music tradition is arguably the very first world music. We will also listen to and think about the implications of the work of the transnational community of young practitioners who are making this a global practice in the 21st century.

PY.610.674. History of Musical Instruments. 3 Credits.
While the emphasis is on contemporary Western models, the history and technology of precursors and non-Western instruments will be addressed. It is hoped that students will develop a thorough knowledge of the history, technology and performance of their own instruments, as well as an appreciation and some familiarity with all ancient and modern musical instruments. To gain an understanding of the workings of musical instruments, projects will include the construction of instruments from simple ones—constructed from easy recipes and materials readily found around the house—to some requiring more sophisticated formulas and parts. Some of our classes may be held in the Mechanical Engineering Department’s Laboratory Space at Wyman Park.

PY.610.679. Experiments in Opera since 1970. 3 Credits.
As early as the mid-1920s opera was widely criticized for purportedly being out-of-joint with modernity, irrevocably stuffy, and elitist. By mid-century few composers associated with avant-garde movements were interested in the form. Since the early 1970s, however, there has been a kind of operatic renaissance involving a diverse pool of composers, writers, and artists (although the critiques never stopped). This course surveys an array of the more experimental operas written since 1970 by composers with roots in numerous traditions including serialism, free jazz, fluxus, performance art, and minimalism. We will seek out causes for the operatic turn while exploring how composers, writers, directors, and visual artists have adapted opera to reflect contemporary concerns. Each class will focus on a single work with associated texts by the relevant artists as well as readings drawn from musicology, art history, philosophy, media theory, sociology, linguistics, psychology, and theater studies. In addition to our weekly meetings we will have opportunities to visit composers, opera companies and institutes, venues, and festivals. Composers/librettists/directors covered in the course will include: Igor Stravinsky and W. H. Auden (the sole pre-1970 example); Carla Bley and Paul Haines; Meredith Monk; Gyorgi Ligeti; Robert Wilson and Philip Glass; Karlheinz Stockhausen, Robert Ashley; Anthony Davis and Thulani Davis; Laurie Anderson; Luigi Nono; Anthony Braxton; Heiner Goebbels; Olga Neuwirth and Elfriede Jelinek; and Michel van der Aa.

PY.610.683. Expanding the Canon: Women and Minority Composers. 3 Credits.
In this seminar we'll explore the lives and music of twelve female or minority composers with special attention to reception history, and the challenges of expanding the classical canon. Artistic "Canons" are complex, nebulous, and inherently fraught structures, in which cultural establishments reflect and propagate their values. In this course, we will investigate the histories of these canons, and the rationales for the inclusions and, most importantly, exclusions. Our individual case studies are linked by this broader historiographical narrative.

PY.610.684. Transnationalism. 3 Credits.
An examination of contemporary world music genres from an ethnomusicological perspective, with emphasis on transnational and global issues.
Graduate students must meet musicology seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course. Undergraduates need to have successfully completed 2 out of 3 following courses in order to register: PY.610.321[C], PY.610.322[C], PY.610.323[C].

PY.610.689. The Symphonic Century. 3 Credits.
The symphony occupies a prominent place within the history of Western classical music in the "long" nineteenth century. At once a canvas for daring innovations in style and form and a genre strongly allied with notions of "tradition," the nineteenth-century symphony brings together a complex set of issues that illuminate the broader history of music and musical culture of the past 200 years. This course introduces the iconic works of the symphonic tradition, with a focus on music of Haydn, Mozart, Beethoven, Schubert, Berlioz, Schumann, Mendelssohn, Brahms, Bruckner, and Mahler. As we aim to discover what made this music so remarkable in its time and why so many people still care about it today, we will consider each symphony both as a timeless work of art and as a particular moment in cultural history. Close attention will be given to the techniques of structural listening, and our work will be deeply rooted within the historical, philosophical, and political contexts of the time.
Graduate students must meet musicology seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course. Undergraduates need to have successfully completed 2 out of 3 following courses in order to register: PY.610.321[C], PY.610.322[C], PY.610.323[C].

PY.610.691. Master's Essay. 2 Credits.
A scholarly work written under the supervision of a member of the musicology faculty. Required for the Master's degree in Musicology. Fall and spring.

PY.610.692. Wagner. 3 Credits.
Wagner stands as one of the most famous and controversial exemplars of German musical romanticism. A revolutionary, a composer, a dramaturg, a critic, and—by some metrics—a philosopher, Wagner is an unavoidable voice in the story of opera. In this course we evaluate Wagner's life, works, and historical context. We evaluate patterns of criticism of reception, all with an aim of honing our skills as readers and writers.

PY.610.693. American Music. 3 Credits.
A survey of American Music, from colonial times to the middle of the 20th century. There will be a considerable emphasis on relating musical expressions to changing social/historical conditions. We will examine the roles played by technological developments and the rise of the music business shortly after the American Revolution. Our country's varied musical styles invite serious study of all modes of performance and dissemination, not just "classical" composition and performance. Active participation in discussion is a requirement of this seminar, as is writing a research paper on a topic of the student's choice.
Graduate students must meet musicology seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course. Undergraduates need to have successfully completed 2 out of 3 following courses in order to register: PY.610.321[C], PY.610.322[C], PY.610.323[C].

PY.610.694. Music in Maryland. 3 Credits.
Music in Maryland: from British Colonization through the mid-20th Century. Founded in 1634, Maryland's diverse geography, economy, and settlement begat a rich music history. This course traces music of the great tobacco plantations of the Chesapeake Bay, with their co-mingled African and British music, through the growth of Baltimore into a center of publishing, concerts, opera, church music, instrument-building and teaching. We will examine the roles played by technological developments and the rise of the music business shortly after the American Revolution, also considering developments in sound recording and broadcast radio. Going well beyond 'classical' trends, we will also examine rich popular and folk traditions, such as parlor songs and 'Sacred Harp' hymnody. Active participation in discussion is a requirement of this seminar, also required are several writing assignments and an in-class presentation on a topic of the student's choice.
Graduate students must meet musicology seminar proficiency requirements in order to enroll in this course. Undergraduates need to have successfully completed 2 out of 3 following courses in order to register: PY.610.321[C], PY.610.322[C], PY.610.323[C].

PY.610.755. Masters Research. 2 Credits.
An introduction to methods of research through independent written projects in music history. Required of all musicology majors.

PY.610.756. Masters Research. 2 Credits.
An introduction to methods of research through independent written projects in music history. Required of all musicology majors. Fall and spring.

PY.610.791. Dissertation (DMA). 6 Credits.
A study of an original musical topic, approved by the DMA Committee, culminating in the completion and defense of a scholarly work written under supervision of the student's academic advisor. Graded on a S/U basis.

PY.610.792. Lecture-Recital Paper. 2 Credits.
A study of a specific musical topic, approved by the DMA Committee and suitable as the basis for a lecture-recital, culminating in a written paper and a public lecture-recital. Fall and spring. Graded on a S/U basis.

PY.610.813. Doctoral Consultation and Research. 2 Credits.
For graduate students working with a faculty member to complete a dissertation or a lecture-recital essay. Registration required each semester following completion of coursework in order to maintain active status in the program.

PY.610.814. Doctoral Consultation and Research. 2 Credits.
For graduate students working to complete a dissertation or a lecture-recital essay. Registration is required each semester following completion of coursework in order to maintain active status in the program. Fall and spring.

PY.610.847. Musicology Colloquium. 3 Credits.
An introduction to doctoral-level academic study at Peabody. Emphasis is on critical thinking, argument from sources, and written and oral presentations. The course features presentations from invited speakers. Open to DMA and MM Musicology students only. Lectures are open to the general public.

PY.610.848. Musicology Colloquium. 3 Credits.
An introduction to doctoral-level academic study at Peabody. Emphasis is on critical thinking, argument from sources, and written and oral presentations. The course features presentations from invited speakers. Open to DMA and MM Musicology students only. Lectures are open to the general public.
PY.320.101. Music for New Media 1. 3 Credits.
A foundation of compositional skills. Students will analyze the work of seminal composers of Western music and learn to compose by mimicking their style. Compositions will be scored and notated for common instruments but realized through software emulation. Software used in class: a digital audio workstation (e.g., Logic Pro) and notation software (e.g., Finale).
Music for New Media majors only.

PY.320.102. Music for New Media 2. 3 Credits.
Further development of compositional skills as they relate to film, TV and video game scoring. Students will analyze historic and contemporary scores, considering the role of music when it is synchronized to picture. Students will be required to make short cues ‘inspired by’ or as ‘clones’ of cues from the movies they study. They will examine ways to invoke common cinematic moods using a range of scales/modes, intervals, chord sequences, and instrumental choices. In lab classes they will have time to individually work on simple exercises, making original themes and variations under headphones that they will then share with the rest of the class for critiques. They will have homework time to complete these pieces and be graded on them. Students will delve deeper into sample-based sound libraries, learning how to create simple orchestrations, arranged for common instruments but realized through software emulation. Software used in class: for composition—a digital audio workstation e.g., Logic Pro, Ableton Live, plus the Amadeus orchestral software library etc; for video editing and audio mastering—Avid ProTools.
Music for New Media majors only.;Music for New Media 1, PY.320.101(C), required. Student must have received at least a B- in order to progress.

PY.320.201. Music for New Media 3. 3 Credits.
Students explore the role of sound design by composing soundscapes to accompany moving images, and recording Foley elements. In addition, principals of orchestration studied in the Instrumentation course are applied to software instruments. Students will learn to create an orchestral realization of a composition that sounds as realistic as possible. Final project will be a scene in which they are individually responsible for creating all sound elements except dialogue. Project will model professional work through the use of contracts, timeline development and other project management skills. Prerequisites: Music for New Media 2 and Instrumentation and Arranging; Co-requisite: The Tools of New Media 1.
Music for New Media majors only.;Music for New Media 2, PY.320.102(C), required. Student must have received at least a B- in order to progress.

PY.320.202. Music for New Media 4. 3 Credits.
Students will undertake a semester long research and composition project related to the vast field of composing music for film, TV, or games. This will serve as a guided preparation for the type of projects they may work in their private studies as upperclassman or the capstone project. Each project will be presented to the class, exposing all students to a diverse range of techniques, styles, and conventions – co-developing their vocabulary of scoring. Students will also generate a printed score for a soloist or ensemble to play on one of their compositions and investigate alternative workflows in creating a Main Title or Main Menu Suite.
Music for New Media majors only.;Music for New Media 3, PY.320.201(C), required. Student must have received at least a B- in order to progress.

PY.320.211. The Tools of New Media 1. 2 Credits.
Beyond writing music, music then needs to be implemented to become a part of the soundscape of a game. The ability to implement their music will open up additional opportunities for game composers. Starting with direct implementation in the game engine Unity, students will learn how to create and manipulate objects using the C# programming language. We will then transition into using the middleware audio engine Wwise to create deeper reactivity and variation in our scores.
Music for New Media majors only.;Completion of Introduction to Programming required (PY.350.466[C]);Music for New Media 2, PY.320.102[C], required. Student must have received at least a B- in order to enroll.

PY.320.212. The Tools of New Media 2. 2 Credits.
How does technology complement and enhance the work of a composer working on film and games? Investigate the key components of modern sample libraries and how best to use them. Use modern synthesizers and samplers to create unique and compelling sonic landscapes to accompany moving images. Through “mock-up” exercises, various aspects of MIDI programming (“virtual orchestration” or “synhestration”) will be explored, culminating in building a moderate sized scoring template.
Music for New Media majors only.;Tools of New Media 1, PY.320.211(C), required. Student must have received at least a B- in order to progress.;Completion of Introduction to Programming required (PY.350.466[C]).

PY.320.301. Mixing Sound for Picture. 3 Credits.

PY.320.419. Internship. 2 Credits.
Music for New Media majors only.

PY.320.495. Music for New Media Capstone. 2 Credits.
The culmination of all course work and private study in the degree, the Capstone Project is equivalent to a recital given by a performance major. By the end of the second year (through instruction in New Media Composition class) students will submit for approval an outline of their intended Capstone Project. Completed projects will be displayed, performed, demonstrated, etc. at the conclusion of their final semester of study.
Music for New Media majors only.

PY.320.501. Music for New Media Seminar. 1 Credit.
A required course for New Media students. Particular attention will be paid to the role of music in media, as well as current industry trends and developments in the field. (1)

BU.000.000. Advanced Registration Placeholder. 2 Credits.

SA.000.050. Teaching from a Distance Sandbox 1.

SA.000.051. Teaching from a Distance Sandbox 2.

SA.000.052. Teaching from a Distance Sandbox 3.

SA.000.053. Teaching from a Distance Sandbox 4.

SA.000.054. Teaching from a Distance Sandbox 5.

SA.110.404. MAIA Extended Research Project.
MAIA students may take two courses instead of completing and defending a 15-20,000 word thesis. However, in order to maintain a research component, they must prepare an 8,000 word research paper for one of their courses. This requirement may be similar to the existing requirement for a given course, or may be considered additional to or substitute for existing requirements, as decided by the course professor.
SA.110.405. MAIA Thesis Research.
MAIA students at SAIS Europe may choose to spread their thesis research over a full academic year or do most of the work during the final semester.

SA.110.406. MAIA Thesis Defense. 8 Credits.
The MAIA thesis is a 15-20,000 word research project for which a SAIS Europe faculty member acts as primary supervisor and another professor as second reader who cross-examines the candidate during the defense.

PY.540.491. Acting For Opera 1. 1 Credit.
An approach to dramatic characterization through the development of the actor's imagination and expressive range, with special emphasis on the ensemble and projection techniques of the lyric stage.
Open to Voice majors only.

PY.540.492. Acting For Opera 2. 1 Credit.
Acting for Opera is a laboratory for the complete singer-actor. The canon of music-theatre continues to expand, and each genre of music has its own evolving style of performance. As such, students will practice working both from the outside-in (using the face, body, and voice to express ideas and emotions) and from the inside-out (using their imaginations as fuel for strong artistic choices). Readings include historic and contemporary discourses on both acting and rhetoric.
Students will prepare monologues, dialogue, and recitative scenes assigned by the instructor, and will be graded upon their individual preparation as well as their ability to work in an ensemble.
Open to Voice majors only.

PY.540.513. Movement 1. 1 Credit.
Develops physical awareness, movement skills, and integration of musical and spatial concepts. Includes introductory dance technique, vocabulary and patterns. Active studies in Dalcroze eurhythmics, choreography, characterization and styles provide further abilities useful in opera.
Open to Voice majors only.

PY.540.514. Movement 2. 1 Credit.
This course develops singers' physical awareness, movement skills, and integration of musical and dramatic content. Areas of study include the dynamics of stage space, gesture as a product of characterization, and knowledge of basic dance forms for the opera stage. Processes draw from somatic studies and Jaques-Dalcroze eurhythmics.
Open to Voice majors only; Completion of Movement 1 required, PY.540.513/[C].

PY.540.515. Movement (GR). 1 Credit.
Graduate Acting students will learn how to decode the important information in each script, libretto, and score in order to translate it into vivid performances. Art (and therefore acting) may be subjective, but everyone can cultivate the skills required to become a better singer-actor. The aim of this class is to empower graduate students to make strong artistic choices by demystifying character, style, and rhetoric.
Open to Voice majors only.

PY.540.521. Opera Seminar. 2 Credits.
An advanced course on acting for the Opera stage. This class counts towards the Vocal Literature course requirement. The purpose of this class is to review, strengthen and apply concepts of stagecraft, acting, and character analysis to the advanced singer interested in singing on the Opera stage. This will be done through "Role Preparation", working exclusively in a given role in an opera. By the end of the semester the student will be able to create from the music and text of the opera role an entire, complete, practical character and performance us. Open to Voice majors only.

PY.540.522. Opera Seminar. 2 Credits.
An introduction to acting for the Opera stage.
Open to Voice majors only.

PY.540.523. Opera in Action. 2 Credits.
Who gets to make and to experience opera? Opera in Action students will explore these questions and pose their own, using a short opera performance as the catalyst for both classroom and community engagement. Students will work with instructors from various fields to devise activities and foster conversations around music, theatre, and performance. Emphasis will be placed on developing each individual student's musical/dramatic skills in the context of community. Both Voice and Music Education students with a singing background are encouraged to apply.

PY.540.535. Graduate Opera Seminar. 2 Credits.
Individual and group work focusing on language, diction, and the vocal line as it relates to instrumentation and musical texture. Students will explore composers' stylistic, linguistic, and musical choices as the basis for crafting informed interpretations of operatic works in various styles, including 21st-century repertoire. Focus may include both individual arias and role preparation. This course also includes a career overview that encompasses auditions, management, singing in Europe, and professional expectations and standards.
Open to Voice majors only.

PY.540.536. Opera Aria Coaching. 2 Credits.
Bringing an Opera Aria to performance level requires a great deal of 'sleuthing', i.e. detective work. We are who we are in every day life simply by being a living, breathing ever-evolving human being. Our reactions, our personality are ever revealing themselves simply by interacting with the situations and people we encounter. Arias are, however, stories told in a moment in time, in a particular situation that is 'pre-scribed' by a librettist and composer. It is our challenge to find out what the intention of the creators was, what the message to deliver is and what experience brings us to this point. Research, dissection, pondering, in a sense, working backwards to understand the components of an aria will bring us to a point of delivering the message - hopefully - that the team had in mind. Vocal color, word stress, phrasing (both musical and literary) all contribute to a meaningful expression of a character's reaction to a particular situation at a point in time.
Open to Voice majors only.
PY.460.423. History, Instrument Design, and Performance Practice. A study of selected organ literature from all periods within the context of history, instrument design, and performance practice. Up to five composers from the fall semester will be chosen to write a 15-minute scene or one-act opera for full production in the spring. For composers, participation in the fall semester is prerequisite to the spring. The course is open to composers at the senior-year level or above. PY.123.502. Alexander Technique 2. 2 Credits.
This course is for students who have completed PY.123.501 and want to integrate Alexander technique more fully into their performance and practice, as well as daily life. Students who have some other experience with Alexander technique may contact the instructor. During the course, students will deepen their ability to apply the principles of the Alexander Technique to performance and practice, and to choose balanced coordination of their whole selves. Students will learn to be able to rely on their own "Alexander awareness" to access effortless support and balance, to deal with stress, and prevent strain and injury. They will also develop their authentic expression, lively presence, freedom of movement and connection with themselves, their task, and their audience.

PY.123.521. Playing Well 1. 3 Credits.
Offered at the graduate level, this course covers anatomy and movement concepts as applied to music making, with particular attention to those structures at risk for repetitive trauma. This three-credit, 14-week online course is asynchronous, so you can work through the weekly course material when it's convenient for you. Through original and curated videos, assigned reading, participation in discussion boards, and individual assignments, you will learn how musicians use their bodies, exploring the skeletal, muscular, and nervous systems as well as posture and breathing, and analyzing movements that can cause stress and injury.

PY.123.522. Playing Well 2. 3 Credits.
Explores instrumental musicians' playing-related disorders. Topics include an overview of risk factors and injury mechanisms, principles of treatment, medical examinations, and specific injuries and treatments by body region. Students receive information from the expert perspectives of physicians, therapists, and musicians and complete a practical capstone project designed to apply medical and therapeutic knowledge to their work in practice and performance.

PY.123.523. Playing Well 3. 3 Credits.
Three-credit course explores primary and secondary prevention strategies within a framework of prevention, preparedness, response, and recovery. Topics include the importance of exercise, sleep and nutrition; how to plan playing-specific mind and body training and functional conditioning; warm-up, cool-down, unloading, recovery, and regeneration activities as key components of performance training; exposure control to repetition and force through efficient motor learning strategies; and integration of retraining programs in rehabilitation to prevent reinjury.

Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only; Completion or co-registration of previous recital in sequence, PY.420.722[C], needed.

PY.420.724. Harp Recital (AD 4). 2 Credits.
4th recital for AD Harp majors. AD students must take for S/U grade.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only; Completion or co-registration of previous recital in sequence, PY.420.723[C], needed.

PY.420.725. Harp Recital (DMA Concerto). 2 Credits.
Concerto recital for DMA Harp majors. Must be co-enrolled in major lessons regardless of if in Residency or DIP.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only

PY.420.726. Harp Recital (DMA Chamber). 2 Credits.
Chamber recital for DMA Harp majors. May be taken during Spring or DIP period. Co-registration in major lessons not required (please see DMA handbook for further guidelines).
Majors only

PY.425.701. Strings Recital (UG). 2 Credits.
Undergraduate Senior recital for String instrument Majors.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only

PY.425.721. Strings Recital (GR 1). 2 Credits.
1st recital for GPD, AD, and DMA String instrument majors. Final recital for MM String instrument majors. AD students must take for S/U grade.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only

PY.425.722. Strings Recital (GR 2). 2 Credits.
2nd recital for GPD, AD, and DMA String instrument majors. AD students must take for S/U grade.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only; Completion or co-registration of previous recital in sequence, PY.425.721[C], needed.
PY.425.724. Strings Recital (AD 4). 2 Credits.
4th recital for AD String instrument majors. AD students must take for S/U grade.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only; Completion or co-registration of previous recital in sequence, PY.425.723[C], needed.

PY.425.725. Strings Recital (DMA Concerto). 2 Credits.
Concerto recital for DMA String instrument majors. Must be co-enrolled in major lessons regardless of if in Residency or DIP.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only

PY.425.726. Strings Recital (DMA Chamber). 2 Credits.
Chamber recital for DMA String instrument majors. May be taken either during Residency or DIP period. Co-registration in major lessons not required (please see DMA handbook for further guidelines).
Majors only

PY.430.721. Woodwinds Recital (UG). 2 Credits.
Undergraduate recital for Woodwind instrument Majors.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only

PY.430.722. Woodwinds Recital (GR 2). 2 Credits.
2nd recital for GPD, AD, and DMA Woodwind instrument majors. AD students must take for S/U grade.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only

PY.430.723. Woodwinds Recital (GR 3). 2 Credits.
3rd recital for AD and DMA Woodwind instrument majors. AD students must take for S/U grade.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only; Completion or co-registration of previous recital in sequence, PY.430.722[C], needed.

PY.430.724. Woodwinds Recital (AD 4). 2 Credits.
4th recital for AD Woodwind instrument majors. AD students must take for S/U grade.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only; Completion or co-registration of previous recital in sequence, PY.430.723[C], needed.

PY.430.725. Woodwinds Recital (Concerto). 2 Credits.
Concerto recital for DMA Woodwind instrument majors. Must be co-enrolled in major lessons regardless of if in Residency or DIP.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only

PY.430.726. Woodwinds Recital (Chamber). 2 Credits.
Chamber recital for DMA Woodwind instrument majors. May be taken either during Residency or DIP period. Co-registration in major lessons not required (please see DMA handbook for further guidelines).
Majors only

PY.430.727. Woodwinds Recital (Lecture). 2 Credits.
Lecture recital for DMA Woodwind instrument majors. Co-registration in major lessons not required (please see DMA handbook for further guidelines).
Majors only

PY.450.701. Piano Recital (UG). 2 Credits.
Undergraduate recital for Piano Majors.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only

PY.450.721. Piano Recital (GR 1). 2 Credits.
1st recital for GPD, AD, and DMA Piano majors. Final recital for MM Piano majors. AD students must take for S/U grade.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only

PY.450.722. Piano Recital (GR 2). 2 Credits.
2nd recital for GPD, AD, and DMA Piano majors. AD students must take for S/U grade.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only; Completion or co-registration of previous recital in sequence, PY.450.721[C], needed.

PY.450.723. Piano Recital (GR 3). 2 Credits.
3rd recital for AD and DMA Piano majors. AD students must take for S/U grade.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only; Completion or co-registration of previous recital in sequence, PY.450.722[C], needed.

PY.450.724. Piano Recital (AD 4). 2 Credits.
4th recital for AD Piano majors. AD students must take for S/U grade.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only; Completion or co-registration of previous recital in sequence, PY.450.723[C], needed.

PY.450.725. Piano Recital (DMA Concerto). 2 Credits.
Concerto recital for DMA Piano majors. Must be co-enrolled in major lessons regardless of if in Residency or DIP.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only

PY.450.726. Piano Recital (DMA Chamber). 2 Credits.
Chamber recital for DMA Piano majors. May be taken either during Residency or DIP period. Co-registration in major lessons not required (please see DMA handbook for further guidelines).
Majors only
PY.450.727. Piano Recital (DMA Lecture). 2 Credits.
Lecture recital for DMA Piano majors. Co-registration in major lessons not required (please see DMA handbook for further guidelines).
Majors only

PY.460.701. Organ Recital (UG). 2 Credits.
Undergraduate recital for Organ Majors.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only

PY.460.721. Organ Recital (GR 1). 2 Credits.
1st recital for GPD, AD, and DMA Organ majors. Final recital for MM Organ majors. AD students must take for S/U grade.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only

PY.460.722. Organ Recital (GR 2). 2 Credits.
2nd recital for GPD, AD, and DMA Organ majors. AD students must take for S/U grade.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only

PY.460.723. Organ Recital (GR 3). 2 Credits.
3rd recital for AD and DMA Organ majors. AD students must take for S/U grade.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only; Completion or co-registration of previous recital in sequence, PY.460.721[C], needed.

PY.460.724. Organ Recital (AD 4). 2 Credits.
4th recital for AD Organ majors. AD students must take for S/U grade.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only; Completion or co-registration of previous recital in sequence, PY.460.723[C], needed.

PY.460.725. Organ Recital (DMA Concerto). 2 Credits.
Concerto recital for DMA Organ majors. Must be co-enrolled in major lessons regardless of if in Residency or DIP.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only

PY.460.726. Organ Recital (DMA Chamber). 2 Credits.
Chamber recital for DMA Organ majors. May be taken either during Residency or DIP period. Co-registration in major lessons not required (please see DMA handbook for further guidelines).
Majors only

PY.470.309. Guitar Junior Recital. 1 Credit.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only

PY.470.701. Guitar Recital (UG). 2 Credits.
Undergraduate Senior recital for Guitar Majors.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only

PY.470.721. Guitar Recital (GR 1). 2 Credits.
1st recital for GPD, AD, and DMA Guitar majors. Final recital for MM Guitar majors. AD students must take for S/U grade.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].

PY.470.727. Guitar Recital (DMA Lecture). 2 Credits.
Lecture recital for DMA Guitar majors. Co-registration in major lessons not required (please see DMA handbook for further guidelines).
Majors only

PY.530.701. Voice Recital (UG). 2 Credits.
Undergraduate recital for Voice Majors.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only

PY.530.721. Voice Recital (GR 1). 2 Credits.
1st recital for GPD, AD, and DMA Voice majors. Final recital for MM Voice majors. AD students must take for S/U grade.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only
PY.530.722. Voice Recital (GR 2). 2 Credits.
2nd recital for GPD, AD, and DMA Voice majors. AD students must take for S/U grade.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only; Completion or co-registration of previous recital in sequence, PY.530.721[C], needed.

PY.530.723. Voice Recital (GR 3). 2 Credits.
3rd recital for AD and DMA Voice majors. AD students must take for S/U grade.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only; Completion or co-registration of previous recital in sequence, PY.530.722[C], needed.

PY.530.724. Voice Recital (GR 4). 2 Credits.
4th recital for AD Voice majors. AD students must take for S/U grade.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only; Completion or co-registration of previous recital in sequence, PY.530.723[C], needed.

PY.530.725. Voice Recital (DMA Concerto). 2 Credits.
Concerto recital for DMA Voice majors. Must be co-enrolled in major lessons regardless of if in Residency or DIP.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only.

PY.530.726. Voice Recital (DMA Chamber). 2 Credits.
Chamber recital for DMA Voice majors. May be taken either during Residency or DIP period. Co-registration in major lessons not required (please see DMA handbook for further guidelines).
Majors only.

PY.530.727. Voice Recital (DMA Lecture). 2 Credits.
Lecture recital for DMA Voice majors. Co-registration in major lessons not required (please see DMA handbook for further guidelines).
Majors only.

PY.570.701. Jazz Recital (UG). 2 Credits.
Undergraduate recital for Jazz Majors.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only.

PY.570.721. Jazz Recital (GR 1). 2 Credits.
1st recital for GPD Jazz majors.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only.

PY.570.722. Jazz Recital (GR 2). 2 Credits.
2nd recital for GPD Jazz Majors.
Prerequisite(s): Co-enrollment in major lessons required: PY.100.100[C] or PY.100.101[C] or PY.050.100[C] or PY.050.101[C].
Majors only; Completion or co-registration of previous recital in sequence, PY.570.721[C], needed.

PY.530.111. Recording 1a - Fundamentals. 2 Credits.
A course designed to introduce the beginning Recording Arts student to components of the recording process, including a detailed analysis of the nature of sound and human perception, digital audio and operation of recording consoles, microphone types and techniques, editing, and other skills. Open to majors and other majors with permission of instructor. Open to Recording Arts majors. Non-majors who wish to enroll should email the instructor’s permission to peabodyregistrar@jhu.edu.

PY.530.112. Recording 1b - Fundamentals. 2 Credits.
A course designed to introduce the beginning Recording Arts student to components of the recording process, a detailed analysis of the nature of sound and human perception, digital audio and operation of recording consoles, microphone types and techniques, editing, and other skills. Open to majors and other majors with permission of instructor. Completion of Recording 1a with a B- or higher is required, PY.530.111[C].

PY.530.211. Recording 2a - Studio Technology. 2 Credits.
A continuation of Recording I that provides students with an in-depth exploration of the tools and technology associated with the recording process including signal flow, analog and digital theory, signal processing, and recording systems. Open to majors and other majors with permission of instructor. Completion of Recording 1b with a B- or higher is required, PY.530.112[C].

PY.530.212. Recording 2b - Studio Technology. 2 Credits.
A continuation of Recording I that provides students with an in-depth exploration of the tools and technology associated with the recording process including signal flow, analog and digital theory, signal processing, and recording systems. Open to majors and other majors with permission of instructor. Prerequisite: Recording I. Completion of Recording 2a with a B- or higher is required, PY.530.211[C].

PY.530.311. Recording 3a - Classical/Jazz Techniques. 2 Credits.
Building on the Recording I and II courses, students will explore techniques for recording in the “tonmeister” style of engineering, particularly as it relates to microphone techniques for classical and jazz music recording, mixing and editing. Additional topics include surround sound and multitrack production. Open to majors only. Completion of Recording 2b with a B- or higher is required, PY.530.212[C].

PY.530.312. Recording 3b - Classical/Jazz Mixing and Editing. 2 Credits.
Building on the Recording I and II courses, students will explore techniques for recording in the “tonmeister” style of engineering, particularly as it relates to microphone techniques for classical and jazz music recording, mixing and editing. Additional topics include surround sound and multitrack production. Open to majors only. Completion of Recording 3a with a B- or higher is required, PY.530.311[C].

PY.530.411. Recording 4a - Rock/Pop Techniques. 3 Credits.
A continuation of Recording III, this course focuses on contemporary recording techniques associated with rock/pop music production. Topics include multi-track recording, mixing, overdubbing, and headphone monitoring. Open to majors only. Completion of Recording 3a with a B- or higher is required, PY.530.311[C].

PY.530.412. Recording 4b - Rock/Pop Mixing and Editing. 3 Credits.
A continuation of Recording III, this course focuses on contemporary recording techniques associated with rock music production. Topics include multi-track recording, mixing, over-dubbing, and headphone monitoring. Prerequisite: Recording III or permission of instructor. Completion of Recording 4a with a B- or higher is required, PY.530.411[C]. Open to Recording Arts majors only.
PY.550.419. Recording Internship. 4 Credits.
Undergraduate students work in supervised professional positions in which they will have the opportunity to apply the knowledge and expertise developed during their course of study. The internship requires 320 hours of service in an approved facility. Open to majors only. Open to Recording Arts majors only.

PY.550.511. Advanced Recording Systems 1. 3 Credits.
Theory and practical application of the tools and techniques used in professional audio recording in all common musical styles. Topics include a review of studio acoustics, human perception of sound, microphone theory and application, signal processing, recording, mixing and mastering. Advanced techniques in classical, jazz and rock music recording, and other styles as time permits. Open to incoming students in the Recording and Production track of the Master of Arts in Audio Sciences program. Open to Recording Arts majors only.

PY.550.512. Advanced Recording Systems 2. 3 Credits.
Theory and practical application of the tools and techniques used in professional audio recording in all common musical styles. Topics include a review of studio acoustics, human perception of sound, microphone theory and application, signal processing, recording, mixing and mastering. Advanced techniques in classical, jazz and rock music recording, and other styles as time permits. Prerequisite: Acceptance to Recording and Production track of the Master of Arts in Audio Sciences program, or permission of instructor. Open to Recording Arts majors only; Completion of Advanced Recording Systems 1 with a B- or higher is required, PY.550.511(C).

PY.550.513. Advanced Studio Production 1. 3 Credits.
Advanced practical training in producing and engineering recordings in a variety of musical styles at a professional level in a masterclass-like environment with an accomplished professional recording engineer. Final capstone projects will be evaluated by a panel of outside producers representing classical, jazz, and rock music styles and engineers who are experts in their respective field of professional audio recording, and presented at the end of the year in an open forum attended by all students in the Recording Arts and Sciences department. Open to majors only. Open to Recording Arts majors only.

PY.550.514. Advanced Studio Production 2. 3 Credits.
Advanced practical training in producing and engineering recordings in a variety of musical styles at a professional level in a masterclass-like environment with an accomplished professional recording engineer. Final capstone projects will be evaluated by a panel of outside producers representing classical, jazz, and rock music styles and engineers who are experts in their respective field of professional audio recording, and presented at the end of the year in an open forum attended by all students in the Recording Arts and Sciences department. Prerequisite: Recording IV or Advanced Recording Systems. PY.550.513(C). Open to Recording Arts majors only.

PY.550.515. Musical Acoustics. 3 Credits.
A course concerned with the physics of sound as applied to properties of musical instruments, perception of musical sound, electronic music reproduction, and the spaces in which they perform. Prerequisites for recording arts majors: Basic Recording I and II or equivalent. Prerequisite for non-recording majors: Basic Recording Techniques or equivalent. Open to majors only, others by permission of instructor.

PY.550.516. Electroacoustics. 3 Credits.
This class will cover the basic fundamentals of electro-acoustics subdivided into roughly four units: fundamentals and transducer theory, loudspeakers, headphones and microphones. Prerequisite for Recording Majors: Physics 2.

PY.550.517. Psychoacoustics. 3 Credits.
The course focuses on the basics of the physiological and psychological aspects of hearing with applications to audio and sound systems, architectural acoustics, and musical acoustics. Topics include auditory physiology of the outer and inner ear, masking, critical bands, loudness, duration, binaural hearing, localization, and pitch. Open to majors only.

PY.550.519. Acoustical/Audio Measurements. 3 Credits.
The theory and application of acoustical and audio measurements are studied. Measurement techniques used in the evaluation of both physical spaces and electronic equipment are presented. Topics include measurement microphones, sound level meters, noise sources, spectrum and FFT analysis, frequency analysis, reverberation, speech intelligibility, transfer functions, swept sine techniques, audio power measurements, ADC and DAC linearity, harmonic distortion and mixed signal testing. Completion of Architectural Acoustics 1 required, PY.550.624(C).

PY.550.524. Sound Design/Video Games. 3 Credits.
This course is designed for advanced Composition, Computer Music, and Recording Arts students to study and collaborate on sound design and composition for video games. The class population is made up of 50/50 composers and recording engineers for the purposes of project collaboration. Enrollment by permission of the chair of the department. Completion of Recording 3b, Advanced Recording Systems 1, or Introduction to Programming required, PY.550.511(C), PY.550.312(C), or PY.350.466(C). Instructor permission may also be granted instead, and should be emailed to peabodyregistrar@jhu.edu in order to enroll.

PY.550.610. Audio Science and Technology. 3 Credits.
This course is designed to integrate many of the audio and acoustics concepts discussed in the Master of Arts: Concentration in Recording and Production degree curriculum into an exploration of the electronics and acoustics fundamental to audio engineering. Topics include current, voltage, and power in audio systems; reactive circuit elements; AC circuits; semiconductor devices; integrated circuits; transistor based amplifier circuits; power supply technology; embedded systems, and audio system engineering. Additional discussion of Architectural Acoustic Fundamentals, including large hall and small room acoustical design. Co- and prerequisites: Introduction to Electrical and Computer Engineering (undergraduate) and Advanced Recording Systems (graduate), or permission of the instructor.
PY.550.611. Consumer Audio Systems. 3 Credits.
An introduction to the world of consumer audio electronics. The playback chain: What it is, how it works, and how it sounds. Lectures and outside-of-class projects will include a topology analysis of and critical listening to the following audio components and technologies: preamplifiers; power amplifiers; loudspeakers; disc players; DACs; music servers; computer audio; turntables, cartridges, tonearms, phono preamplifiers for vinyl disc playback; broadcast and internet radio; home theater configuration; interconnects; receivers; lossy and lossless codecs; multichannel audio and bass management; specifications and measurement; wireless audio profiles and codecs; network audio; active products and DSP; and headphones and headphone amplifiers. At the end of the course students will have a deep understanding of these topics and the ability to aurally discern the musical impact various design topologies have on the playback of recorded sound. Co- and pre-requisites: Recording III (undergraduate) and Advanced Recording Systems (graduate), or permission of the instructor. Completion of Audio Science and Technology required, PY.550.610[C].

PY.550.624. Architectural Acoustics 1. 3 Credits.
This class covers the fundamentals of architectural acoustics design. Topics will include: Plane and spherical waves; acoustic impedance and sound energy density; reflection, refraction, and diffusion; sound absorption; acoustic materials; psychoacoustic aspects; room modes; statistical versus geometric acoustics; reverberation theory; coupled-space acoustics; behavior of sound in rooms; and large versus small room acoustics. Open to students in the Acoustical Studies track, or by permission of instructor.

PY.550.625. Audiovisual System Design. 3 Credits.
The objective of this class is to provide students with an overview of commercial audiovisual systems design. This will include both the considerations required to design audiovisual systems and all the ancillary considerations required to properly integrate these systems with architecture, electrical, mechanical, structural, and IT systems. Completion of Electroacoustics required, PY.550.516[C]. Instructor permission may also be granted instead, and should be emailed to peabodyregistrar@jhu.edu in order to enroll.

PY.550.626. Noise Control. 2 Credits.
A continuation of Architectural Acoustics (550 • 624) Topics will include: perceptual aspects of noise control; sound power, noise control criteria and standards; hearing loss prevention; environmental acoustics; airborne sound isolation (transmission loss theory, walls, floors, doors, and windows) structure-borne sound insulation (impact insulation theory and floors); vibration isolation (vibration isolators and design); heating, ventilation, and air conditioning (HVAC) noise control; and noise control applications in buildings. Prerequisites: Physical Acoustics, Architectural Acoustics, or permission of instructor. Completion of Architectural Acoustics 1 required, PY.550.624[C]. Instructor permission may also be granted instead, and should be emailed to peabodyregistrar@jhu.edu in order to enroll.

PY.550.627. Acoustical Modeling. 2 Credits.
Basics of computer modeling for room acoustics and sound system design. Topics include general theory and assumptions underlying computer modeling, different types of acoustical models, auralization, small room acoustics, large room acoustics, and sound system computer models. Introduction to popular computer models including Room Sizer, Room Optimizer, EASE, ULYSSES, and ODEON.

PY.550.631. Graduate Acoustics Seminar. 2 Credits.
This course examines professional practices common in the industry, including interaction with clients, design professionals, and contractors; professional ethics and liability; insurance; contracts and fees; and setting and project documentation. Open to majors only.

PY.550.632. Architectural Acoustics 2. 3 Credits.
This class is a continuation of content introduced in PY.550.624: Architectural Acoustics. This course focuses on analysis, design and application, expanding on established foundations and topical content in previous courses. Architectural acoustics applications for Concert Halls, Recital Halls, Spoken-word Theatre Spaces, Lecture and Classroom Spaces, Worship Spaces, Outdoor Performance Venues, Rehearsal and Practice Spaces, Recording and Production Spaces, Cinemas, Sports Venues, Restaurants and/or Office Spaces may be considered. This course is open to students in the MA in Audio Sciences, Acoustical Studies track, or by permission of instructor. Completion of Architectural Acoustics 1 required, PY.550.624[C].

PY.550.640. Acoustics Design Practicum. 3 Credits.
In this course taken in the final semester of study, students act as acoustical consultants to design or analyze an existing room or sound system using the knowledge gained through prior classes. The students are responsible for complete analysis, measurements, modeling, design documentation, and presentation of the final design in class. Open to majors only. Completion of Architectural Acoustics 1 and 2 required, PY.550.632[C] and PY.550.624[C]. Open to Recording Arts and Acoustics majors only.

PY.550.651. Recording for Musicians 1. 2 Credits.
A comprehensive course in recording and associated technologies designed for the musician who wishes to know about the recording arts. The course is taught parallel to Basic Recording I and II but without the required mathematics and physics and is open to upper-level undergraduates and graduate students of all majors.

PY.550.652. Recording for Musicians 2. 2 Credits.
Designed for non-recording majors, this class offers an overview of the recording process starting with a basic understanding of the acoustics of a performance space; through the signal chain of microphones, signal processing, recording, editing, mixing, and loudspeaker and headphone monitors; to the acoustics of the monitoring environment and the human perception of sound. Additional topics include mastering a final product and distribution on CD and through online services. The completion of PY.550.651 is a prerequisite.

PY.550.651[C]

The development of orchestral performance skills for violists. Emphasis on repertoire and preparation for auditions. Open to majors only. String majors only.

PY.425.450. Orchestral Repertoire - Violin. 1 Credit.
The development of orchestral performance skills for violinists. Emphasis on repertoire and preparation for auditions. Open to majors only. String majors only.

The development of orchestral performance skills for violists. Minimum of three students per class. Open to majors only. String majors only.

PY.425.452. Orchestral Repertoire - Viola. 1 Credit.
The development of orchestral performance skills for violists. Emphasis on repertoire and preparation for auditions. Open to majors only. String majors only.
PY.425.465. Orchestral Repertoire - Cello. 1 Credit.
The development of orchestral performance skills for cellists. Emphasis on repertoire and preparation for auditions. Open to majors only.
String majors only.

PY.425.466. Orchestral Repertoire - Cello. 1 Credit.
The development of orchestral performance skills for cellists. Emphasis on repertoire and preparation for auditions. Open to majors only.
String majors only.

PY.425.467. Orchestral Repertoire - Double Bass. 1 Credit.
The development of orchestral performance skills for double bassists. Open to majors only.
String majors only.

PY.425.468. Orchestral Repertoire - Double Bass. 1 Credit.
The development of orchestral performance skills for double bassists. Open to majors only.
String majors only.

PY.425.641. Violoncello Pedagogy 1. 2 Credits.
Training for prospective cello teachers with study of various pedagogues. Materials covered include setup, left hand, bow hand, sequencing of instruction, and choice of music and activities as they apply to beginning students at every age level. Open to both upper-level undergraduates and graduate majors.
String majors only.

PY.425.642. Violoncello Pedagogy 2. 2 Credits.
Training for prospective cello teachers with study of various pedagogues. Materials covered include setup, left hand, bow hand, sequencing of instruction, and choice of music and activities as they apply to beginning students at every age level. Open to both upper-level undergraduates and graduate majors.
String majors only.

PY.425.651. Violin/Viola Pedagogy 1. 2 Credits.
Training for prospective violin/viola teachers with study of various pedagogues. Materials covered include setup, left hand, bow hand, sequencing of instruction and repertoire from the beginning to advanced levels. Observation of violin/viola instructors in the Peabody Preparatory and supervised studio teaching experience. Open to both upper-level undergraduates and graduate majors.
String majors only.

PY.425.652. Violin/Viola Pedagogy 2. 2 Credits.
Training for prospective violin/viola teachers with study of various pedagogues. Materials covered include setup, left hand, bow hand, sequencing of instruction and repertoire from the beginning to advanced levels. Observation of violin/viola instructors in the Peabody Preparatory and supervised studio teaching experience. Open to both upper-level undergraduates and graduate majors in the fall semester and by permission of instructor in the spring semester.
String majors only.

PY.100.101. Major Lesson 1 HR. 4 Credits.
PY.186.100. Vocal Coaching. 1 Credit.
PY.186.100 consists of weekly half hour-long lessons, designed to develop skills for performing and teaching the art of singing: including repertoire choices, musicianship, language, diction and study methods (background study, wordsmithing, observation, dissection, practicing and organizing), as well as preparation for a jury, hearing, or recital.

Historical Performance majors only.

PY.530.469. Italian Diction. 2 Credits.
A study of selected works. Prerequisite: minimum one semester of college study of Italian language or permission of instructor.
Open to Voice majors only.
PY.530.471. Russian Diction. 2 Credits.
A study of Russian vocal music, including analysis and performance of selected works.
Open to Voice majors only.
PY.530.473. Opera Literature. 2 Credits.
A study of selected works in opera from the 17th century to present, with emphasis on compositional styles and traditions of performance. Offered in alternate years.
PY.530.474. Opera Literature. 2 Credits.
A study of selected works in opera from the 17th century to present, with emphasis on compositional styles and traditions of performance.
PY.530.475. English Diction. 2 Credits.
A study of the International Phonetic Alphabet and the English language, with particular attention to American English, its unique sounds and their execution in singing.
Open to Voice majors only.
PY.530.477. German Diction. 2 Credits.
A thorough examination of the phonemic/phonetic system of German pronunciation and its application to singing in that language. The course is designed to give students not only the professional tools to analyze the phonetic problems in German texts (and to transcribe those solutions with the aid of IPA), but also the ability to hear for themselves how those solutions can be applied. Special emphasis is placed on Bühnenaussprach/Hochlautung, noting the differences between speaking and singing in that language, and the resulting choices that the student will need to make in achieving a good and flexible singing pronunciation. The course emphasizes speaking and then singing excerpts from the German vocal repertoire from opera, oratorio, and Lieder.
Open to Voice majors only.
PY.530.478. Czech Diction. 2 Credits.
Open to Voice majors only.
PY.530.483. French Diction. 2 Credits.
A study of French vocal music, its poetry and interpretation, with attention to diction (using the International Phonetic Alphabet) and grammar, including analysis and performance of selected works.
Open to Voice majors only.
PY.530.545. Graduate Diction Review 1. 2 Credits.
This two-semester course is an introduction and review of the International Phonetic Alphabet and its application in writing, speaking and singing English, French, German and Italian. Emphasis will be placed on the study of the IPA and its application in each of the four languages. Required for graduate voice students who do not pass the Diction Placement Exam.
Open to Voice majors only.
PY.530.546. Graduate Diction Review 2. 2 Credits.
This two-semester course is an introduction and review of the International Phonetic Alphabet and its application in writing, speaking and singing English, French, German and Italian. Emphasis will be placed on the study of the IPA and its application in each of the four languages. Required for graduate voice students who do not pass the Diction Placement Exam.
Open to Voice majors only. Completion of Graduate Diction Review 1 required, PY.530.545[C].
PY.530.589. Vocal Literature: English/Italian. 2 Credits.
A survey of English and Italian song literature from the Renaissance to Modern day, applying the International Phonetic Alphabet (IPA) to specific repertoire. Prerequisite: EnglishDiction and Italian Diction.
Undergraduates need to have completed English and Italian Diction in order to enroll, PY.530.469[C] and PY.530.475[C]; Open to Voice majors only.
PY.530.590. Vocal Literature: German/French. 2 Credits.
A study of selected vocal works and styles in French and German from the 17th century to the present, with emphasis on compositional trends, traditions of performance, and exposure to a wide variety of literature from both cultures and languages. Prerequisite: GermanDiction and French Diction.
Open to Voice majors only; Undergraduates need to have completed German and French Diction in order to enroll, PY.530.477[C] and PY.530.483[C].
PY.530.615. Selected Topics in Art Song. 2 Credits.
Performance seminar in 6 units, chosen to represent some important touchstones in the repertoire: John Dowland Songs with Lute (setting a standard); Franz Joseph Haydn Canzonettas (setting a standard); Francis Poulenc: 6 Decades of Song; Charles Ives: The Hidden Innovator; Robert Schumann in 1840: the Amazing "Song Year"; Florence Price: The Uncaged Bird
Open to Voice majors only.
PY.530.617. Singing Bach. 2 Credits.
An introduction to the performance of solo vocal repertoire by J. S. Bach. Singers will study and present representative selections from the St. Matthew Passion, St. John Passion B Minor Mass, Magnificat, Christmas Oratorio, and selected cantatas. The elements of style will be addressed, including the rhetoric of Bach recitative. Cultural and historical context will also be examined.
Open to Voice majors only.
PY.530.645. Musical Theatre Survey. 2 Credits.
Analysis and performance of selected works from the American musical theater, beginning with Jerome Kern and continuing to present-day examples. Offered in alternate years.
Open to Voice majors only.
PY.530.671. Operas of Mozart. 2 Credits.
A study of the music and drama of five principle operas. Offered in alternate years.
Open to Voice majors only.
PY.530.672. Operas of Verdi. 2 Credits.
Open to Voice majors only.

PY.530.679. Advanced French Arias and Melodies. 2 Credits.
An in-depth study of French vocal music with an emphasis on style and interpretation, as well as attention to diction (reviewing the International Phonetic Alphabet) and grammar, including analysis and performance of selected works.
Open to Voice majors only.

PY.530.680. Survey of African-American Art Song. 2 Credits.
This seminar critically examines the history, nature, and trajectory of art song by African American composers. As such, we will understand that art song by African American composers is significant to the genre of art song as an entity. Using a Critical Race Theory Lens we will investigate the simultaneity race, gender, sexuality, and class oppression as expressed in musical values and the reception history of these works. Students will be required to musically prepare songs, perform them in class, and create short presentations about relevant stylistic elements of the song and information about the composer.
Open to Voice majors only.

PY.530.683. Vocal Pedagogy. 2 Credits.
A class participation course that includes an introduction to various voice teaching methods and their respective approaches to posture and breathing, registration, resonation, coordination, interpretation, and vocal health; an examination of the anatomy and function of the vocal mechanism; student teaching; teacher observation; repertoire and recital planning. Required for the MM in Voice with Pedagogy Emphasis and the DMA in Voice, Option C; an elective for seniors and other graduate students.
Open to Voice majors only.

PY.530.688. Vocal Pedagogy Lab. 2 Credits.
This semester of vocal pedagogy will be continuation of the introduction of relevant content through in-house and guest lecturers. Elements critical to an effective teaching studio will also be covered. Stimulating class discussion will be a vital part of the students' understanding of class content. Reading assignments accompany each class.
Open to Voice majors only; Completion of previous course required, PY.530.683[C].

PY.530.685. Verismo Opera. 2 Credits.
Open to Voice majors only.

PY.530.686. Bel Canto Opera. 2 Credits.
Open to Voice majors only.

PY.530.687. Oratorio. 2 Credits.
Participants in this performance seminar will prepare and present representative oratorio repertoire from the 18th century to the present. Students will acquire an understanding of the breadth of styles in this body of repertoire and will complete the course with a list of works of practical value for themselves in the future. The term "oratorio" will be considered broadly, and may include symphonies with voice (e.g. Beethoven 9 and Mahler 2 & 4) but not concert works for solo voice (e.g. Mahler Des Knaben Wunderhorn and Ravel Shéhérezade).
Open to Voice majors only.

PY.530.691. 21st Century Voice 1. 2 Credits.
A performance practice course including score reading, definitions of the technical language of avant garde music, and contemporary vocal techniques. Performance is optional. Offered in alternate years.
Open to Voice majors only.

PY.530.692. 21st Century Voice 2. 2 Credits.
A survey of contemporary vocal literature and notational practices, including discussion of techniques for learning complex music and coaching of selected repertoire. Students will present on topics, techniques, and repertoire. A course for singers, pianists, composers, conductors, and others. A continuation of the fall semester. Prerequisite: PY.530.691 or permission of instructor. Completion of previous course required, PY.530.691[C]; Open to Voice majors only.

PY.530.695. Advanced Lieder Studies. 2 Credits.
This course is designed to present students with analysis, preparation, and performance of the poetry and music found in German Lieder. Through detailed study of poetry and music, we will trace the development of German song from its humble origins, to the great song cycles of Schubert, Schumann, Wolf, Mahler, and beyond. Attention will be paid to appropriate diction, style, and practical performance of the German vocal literature.
Open to Voice majors only.

PY.430.455. Orchestral Repertoire - Clarinet. 1 Credit.
The development of orchestral performance skills for clarinet with emphasis on repertoire.
Woodwind majors only.

PY.430.456. Orchestral Repertoire - Clarinet. 1 Credit.
The development of orchestral performance skills for clarinet with emphasis on repertoire.
Woodwind majors only.

PY.430.463. Piccolo Class. 1 Credit.
Woodwind majors only.

PY.430.464. Piccolo Class. 1 Credit.
Covers repertoire from both solo and orchestral literature in order to increase proficiency, familiarity, and comfort with the "little flute." Emphasis on audition preparation and experience. Required material: Jack Wellbaum's Orchestral Excerpts for Piccolo.
Woodwind majors only.

PY.430.519. Orchestral Repertoire - Flute. 1 Credit.
The development of orchestral performance skills for flute with emphasis on repertoire.
Woodwind majors only.

PY.430.520. Orchestral Repertoire - Flute. 1 Credit.
The development of orchestral performance skills for flutists with particular emphasis on standard orchestral flute solos and how they are traditionally performed for today's ensembles and conductors, with focus on orchestral audition preparation and the development of skills unique to this setting and the demands of this repertoire: employing various styles of articulation to enhance ensemble playing, learning methods for tuning under different circumstances and techniques for projection, exercising improved self-perception and understanding, developing knowledge of some acoustic phenomena of other orchestral instruments, practicing observation as a method for honing one's own performance skills, applying the laws of nature to the process of creative interpretation. We frequently cover standard excerpts which apply to the entire flute section or parts thereof. Usually the class includes one Mock Audition per semester. Students practice building listening, observation, and teaching skills as a part of offering support and feedback to colleagues. They will become familiar not only with how to audition but also with how to adjudicate auditions.
Woodwind majors only.
PY.430.573. Orchestral Repertoire - Oboe/ EH.  1 Credit.
The development of orchestral performance skills for oboe and English horn with emphasis on repertoire.
Woodwind majors only.

PY.430.574. Orchestral Repertoire - Oboe/ EH.  1 Credit.
The development of orchestral performance skills for oboe and English horn with emphasis on repertoire.
Woodwind majors only.

PY.430.575. Orchestral Repertoire - Bassoon.  1 Credit.
The development of orchestral performance skill for bassoon with emphasis on repertoire.
Woodwind majors only.

PY.430.576. Orchestral Repertoire - Bassoon.  1 Credit.
The development of orchestral performance skill for bassoon with emphasis on repertoire.
Woodwind majors only.

PY.430.591. Oboe Reed Making.  1 Credit.
The construction of oboe reeds.
Woodwind majors only.

PY.430.592. Oboe Reed Making.  1 Credit.
The construction of oboe reeds.
Woodwind majors only.
