2. Apply principles and practices of financial analysis and management in the healthcare field
3. Identify HIT tools and methods for evaluating the quality and effectiveness of health services and population health management
4. Utilize principles of strategic management and competitive analyses to support strategy development for health care organizations
5. Use evidence-based principles to analyze business issues and manage complex operations in international healthcare setting.

Admissions

Contact information and complete certificate program admissions information is available on the certificate program page (<https://publichealth.jhu.edu/academics/international-healthcare-management-and-leadership-certificate-program/>) on the Bloomberg School of Public Health website.

Requirements for successful completion

The certificate program requires a minimum of 18 term credits. All required and elective courses must be taken for a letter grade; a minimum grade of C is required in all certificate coursework and students must maintain a 2.75 or better overall GPA for all certificate coursework. The certificate program length is flexible; it varies from student to student, however, the certificate program must be completed within three years.

The student should review the section of the website that addresses completion (https://www.jhsph.edu/academics/certificate-programs/JHSPH_certificate_completion.html) before completing certificate program requirements. The student's transcript will not indicate that the certificate was earned until the Notification of Completion has been submitted, verified by the certificate program, and processed by the Registrar.

COURSE OF STUDY

Please note: Certificate program can be completed entirely online

Students should check the JHSPH course directory (<https://www.jhsph.edu/courses/>) to confirm when the courses are offered.

Students should also check for prerequisites and whether instructor consent is required.
